Louisiana To 'Gamble' On Future

By BILL NEIKIRK
BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Louisiana has placed a $20 million "gamble" that legislation yet to be introduced in Congress will bring the state more money from the medicare program, Gov. John McKeithen said Friday.

The governor said the Legislative Budget Committee estimated $20 million in funds from the medicare program in Louisiana because of talks with Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., and Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La.

Legislative Auditor J. B. Lancaster didn't figure half that much in his revenue estimate for medicare receipts.

"We have assurances from Sen. Long and Congressman Boggs that this legislation will be changed," McKeithen said.

He said, however, it is "entirely possible" the state won't get the bill through Congress.

If that happens, he said, "Mr. Lancaster is right and I'll have to cut back on expenditures."

He said he would abide by the Legislative Budget Committee's revenue estimates for the 1967-68 fiscal year. Lancaster's figures are $20 million lower than the committee's forecast.

McKeithen said the state would end the current fiscal year with a $10 million surplus "which isn't much but it is on the safe side."

The budget was prepared after months of deliberation and will be handed to the legislature at the opening of the fiscal session Monday.

"I just hope the budget committee is right and Mr. Lancaster is wrong," McKeithen said.

McKeithen said at present he has only crime prevention legislation to propose to the lawmakers. He said he would support urban renewal legislation on a local option basis.

McKeithen said he hoped he could keep the session "as nearly fiscal as we can" without it becoming cluttered with non-fiscal bills.

$1 Million Grant Goes To Northeast

The Office of Education in Washington Friday announced approval of a $1 million federal grant to Northeast Louisiana State College for construction of a new administration and classroom building.

Total cost of the project is estimated at $3 million.

Northeast President Dr. George Walker said bids on the three-story building would be let this summer. The building will be located on College Avenue adjacent to newly constructed Hanna Hall.

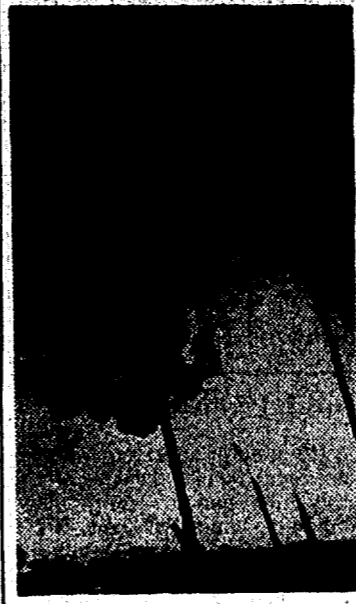

It will house the school administration offices, plus the School of Business Administration.

Dr. Walker said the approximately $2 million in additional funds needed for construction would come from bonds issued for building use.

Final building plans are being drawn by the Monroe firm of Wells and Parker.

Announcement of the grant was made through the offices of Sen. Allen Ellender and Russell B. Long, and 5th District Rep. Otto E. Passman.

NEW MEXICO FIRE ... Covers 2,800 Acres

Area Lacks Fire Fighting Coordination

RUIDOSO, N.M. (AP)—Gov. David F. Cargo heard complaints of poor coordination in control efforts on the 2,800-acre forest fire in the Lincoln National Forest north of Ruidoso on Friday.

"It's a drastic lack of coordination," Ruidoso Mayor Lloyd Davis told Cargo when the governor arrived and made an on-site inspection of the fire.

Davis said State Highway Department equipment which they needed sat idle while authorization for its use was obtained.

Cargo said he intends to call a meeting of various state agencies which will be working on forest fires.

Meanwhile, fire-fighting officials believed they had the fire northeast of Ruidoso under control, as long as heavy winds do not spring up.

"If we can last this burning period, we'll be all right," said Dist. Forester B.H. Starkey.

Cargo flew over the fire in a helicopter. He said he had seen larger fires when he was a Forest Service employee in Idaho but said "this fire is extremely bad for this type of country."

Indian fire fighters dominated a camp of more than 640 men trying to contain the fire northeast of Ruidoso.

Gov. McKeithen Gets Airplane

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Gov. John J. McKeithen has a new airplane.

The twin-engine plane, which cost the state about $395,000, was delivered to the governor Wednesday.

Several test flights have been made. The first official trip was scheduled today.

The plane cost $481,324, and the state got $84,424 in trade-in of the old aircraft.

Rain Forecast In Area Today

Rain is forecast again today for the Northeast Louisiana area with a 50 per cent probability of showers through Sunday. Temperatures are expected to rise slowly today. Today's high temperature is expected to be in the 80's with tonight's low between 62 and 68.

The Louisiana Delta agricultural forecast predicts drying conditions fair to poor through Sunday. Dewpoints are expected in the 60's with only 10 to 20 per cent sunshine today, and Sunday. Rain is expected with amounts mostly one half to one inch, but locally heavier. Southeasterly winds 8 to 18 m.p.h. are expected.

The high temperature in Monroe Friday, according to FAA station at Selman Field, was 72 around 2 p.m. The low was 58 around 3 a.m.

Lynda Bird Escort Arouses Colombians

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—A reporter and a photographer of Colombia's most influential newspaper brought suit Friday against "unknown members" of the escort assigned to Lynda Bird Johnson, elder daughter of U. S. President Johnson.

The suit, filed by reporter Amado Blanco and photographer Gustavo Vasquez of the El Tiempo staff, alleges Miss Johnson's escorts inflicted "serious personal injuries" on them and "destroyed private property belonging to them."

A storm boiled up in Colombia over a clash between the newspaper and the men who accompanied Miss Johnson on her journalistic assignment to Barranquilla.

El Tiempo itself expressed anger over the incident at Barranquilla airport Wednesday night. The newspaper extended its indignation to Texas and to the administration of President Johnson.

El Tiempo, usually pro-United States, represents the ruling Liberal party of President Carlos Lleras Restrepo.

A member of the Colombian Congress vowed to bring the incident before the Congress "in defense of our sovereignty."

The suit filed at Barranquilla's 14th Circuit Criminal Court was immediately accepted by the presiding judge, who ordered a court doctor to examine Blanco and Vasquez to determine the extent of their alleged injuries.

Meanwhile, informed sources in Bogota said the U. S. Embassy has offered to apologize to the two journalists and to pay for a camera the journalists said was destroyed by the men with Miss Johnson.

The storm cast a shadow over Colombian-U. S. relations, only weeks after delicate summit negotiations at Punta del Este, Uruguay, where President Johnson and Lleras were believed to have resolved some of their differences.

Miss Johnson apologized for the incident, and spoke of the U. S. Secret Service, although in Washington a government spokesman denied that Secret Service agents had tangled with the newsmen at Barranquilla. Secret Service men always accompany members of a U. S. president's family on their travels.

A U. S. Embassy spokesman said none of the embassy staff was involved.

Miss Johnson arrived in Barranquilla on Wednesday en route to Cartagena, a Colombian coastal resort, to work on a story about the U. S. hospital ship Hope — anchored there four months to provide free medical service for poor Colombians and to train medical personnel.

Several test flights have been made. The first official trip was scheduled today.

The plane cost $481,324, and the state got $84,424 in trade-in of the old aircraft.

Telephone Threat Cancels Kentucky Derby Bands

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A telephone threat Friday led to cancellation of three Derby Day bands at Churchill Downs where security measures were beefed up to forestall trouble today at the Kentucky Derby.

Open-house advocates called off a Derby eve march in the vicinity of the track after first announcing their demonstration for support of a housing law in Louisville would coincide with the departure of 31,500 race fans. But, the fans were gone long before the demonstrators assembled a mile from the track for a march that never developed.

Churchill Downs announced it would hire a commercial band to replace the bands from Louisville Male High, University of Louisville and Lincoln High Vincennes, Ind. The bands traditionally perform in the infield on Derby Day and mass for the playing of "My Old Kentucky Home" as the colts come onto the track.

Police Chief William Bindner persuaded about 85 open-house advocates to call off their planned march from Wyandotte Park to Churchill Downs by saying the march would be "unsafe, unhealthy and we have an obligation to protect everyone."

To Negro arguments that they were marching on the sidewalk and were not parading, Bindner replied that anyone who marched would be arrested.

One young white man was arrested for throwing a rock that landed near the demonstrators. There was no heckling or other incident by the approximately 250 onlookers.

The demonstrators assembled in the same area where previous marches for the housing movement brought hundreds of arrests and occasional violence.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Armed Services Committee on Friday challenged Justice Department failure to prosecute Stokely Carmichael and other anti-draft campaigners for inflaming youths against military service in Vietnam.

The department's response was prompt. Asst. Atty. Gen. Fred Vinson told committee members, "No one has been prosecuted under the law because the department feels there have been no violations."

Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D-La., brought up Carmichael's activities after Chairman L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., said public officials appeared to be reluctant to prosecute draft dodgers, card burners and makers of "disgraceful, inflammatory speeches that hamper enforcement of the draft."

Hebert cited a Carmichael speech to several hundred college students who echoed his chant, "We aren't going! H—no!"

Vinson replied that in the judgment of the Justice Department that was not a violation of the law which bars obstruction to military recruiting.

Vinson volunteered his personal opinion that Carmichael's utterance was "outrageous," but added that any law dealing with utterances must be read in the First Amendment's guarantees of free speech and dissent.

Vinson rejected Rivers' inference that the Justice Department has been easy on draft dodgers, saying the government's "battering average" this year has been .975.

HEBERT REPLIES

Hebert shot back: "But your batting average in prosecuting people for violating this law obstructing recruiting is .000. Why hasn't anybody been prosecuted today?"

Vinson's reply was also "no" to Rivers' question whether anybody has been "charged with counselling to refuse or evade military service."

Vinson explained that it was exceedingly difficult to prosecute general statements made to a general audience under past Supreme Court decisions that "general expressions of opinion are under the umbrella of the First Amendment."

Vinson made a distinction between such utterances and efforts to urge inductees not to report. He said several indictments have been brought for such urging in which free speech was only part of the issue.

Vinson won committee approval, however, when he testified the Justice Department would appeal a lower court's ruling that the recent law making it a crime to burn draft cards was unconstitutional.

Vinson declined specific comment on the case of prizefighter Cassius Clay. But he said that a draftee's refusal to step forward for induction — the unfrocked heavyweight champion did just that — is "unquestionably an indictable offense."

Vinson said under questioning that Clay could be prosecuted in a few months but that if his lawyers use all the technicalities the appellate process could stretch out for a year or so.

Under committee urging, Vinson agreed to try to work out language for changes in the Selective Service law that would deter inflammatory anti-draft utterances, without violating First Amendment guarantees.

Tax Voting For Schools Set Today

A record turnout is expected today as qualified Ouachita Parish property owners ballot on maintenance taxes for operation of both the parish and Monroe City school systems.

More than 15,000 voters are eligible to ballot during the polling hours from 6 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Both school boards are calling their increased requests the "bare minimum."

The Ouachita Parish School Board is asking for seven mills, an increase of two mills over the present five mill tax which the system has operated on since 1947. The seven mill tax request will be on one ballot.

The Monroe City School Board is asking for 12 mills, an increase of five mills over the current operation of seven. City voters will ballot twice, once to renew the seven mills and again on adding the extra five mills.

Election officials are discounting any chance of inconvenience for voters or confusion because of compliance with a new state law requiring electors to bring tax receipts to the polls. Affidavits will be available.

McKeithen Would Back C. C. Aycock

BATON ROUGE Gov. John McKeithen said Friday he will support Lt. Gov. C. C. Aycock for re-election if Aycock bows out of the governor's race.

At his weekly press conference, McKeithen said he would have a running mate in the November primary, even if Aycock decided to run for governor. The governor did not say who his second choice would be behind Aycock.

James W. Moore of Monroe, a McKeithen-appointed member of the State Board of Highways, vows he will run for lieutenant governor. He says he has been receiving encouragement from J. J. McKeithen Sr., the governor's father.

The race for second spot in state government is developing into the best political battle of this year's elections. Sen. Howard Jones of St. Joseph, who is credited with much of the state's success in securing favorable oil lease prices, is expected to announce for the second spot very soon.

Jones has often acted as one of McKeithen's senate floor leaders.

Sen. Michael O'Keefe of New Orleans, another floor leader, is often rumored as a second spot choice on the McKeithen ticket.

The governor has talked privately with reporters with the advice that his lieutenant governor will be Aycock, but Aycock was quoted Thursday as saying he was definitely running for governor.

Thailand-Based Bombers Hit Key Hanoi Railway

SAIGON (AP)—U. S. Air Force bomber from Thailand bases struck in the Hanoi area Friday, pounding a key railway and a North Vietnamese army barracks. Pilots claimed heavy damage in the raids. U. S. military headquarters Saturday made no mention of any American planes lost in the raids.

Radio Hanoi claimed seven planes were shot down and several American pilots captured. In South Vietnam, ground fighting died down with no significant clashes reported since the last, B-52 bombers of the Strategic Air Command moved in and staged three raids in the Khe Sanh area.

The eight-engine Stratofortresses pounded North Vietnamese staging and troop assembly areas and fortifications 13 miles northwest of Khe Sanh on Friday night and returned twice before dawn today to dump tons of explosives on the same target areas.

In the air raids over North Vietnam, Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs dropped 750-pound and 3,000-pound bombs on the Yen Vien railway yard six miles east-northeast of the center of Hanoi and the Ha Dong army barracks four miles southwest of the Communist capital.

The large railroad facility was heavily damaged and the yard is "considered unusable," the U. S. Command said. Other Air Force pilots, from Da Nang Air Base in South Vietnam, pounded a surface-to-air missile transporter carrying three missiles as it was traveling just north of the demilitarized zone. U. S. headquarters said the 60-foot-long transporter and two of the three missiles were destroyed.

In a fight that ended Friday south of Da Nang, a company of U. S. Marines lost seven dead and 14 wounded to Communists entrenched in fortified positions. The fighting took place about 300 miles north of Saigon. The Marines reported killing one enemy soldier.

But soon after the Marines seized the hill, B-52 bombers of the Strategic Air Command moved in and staged three raids in the Khe Sanh area.

GOING OVER the program for the Fifth District Teachers Public Relations Banquet held Friday at 7:30 p.m. at the Paragon Club in Monroe are (seated left to right) Mrs. Oretha Luttrell, general program chairman; Everett C. Lindsey, human motivation engineer with the Gulf Oil Corporation; J. L. Barnard Jr., president of the Fifth District Classroom Teachers Association; (standing left to right) Mrs. Mildred Patterson, vice president of the Fifth District Association; Mrs. Mildred McCormick of Shreveport; and Bill Baker, president of the Department of Classroom Teachers of the Classroom Teachers Association.

Teachers Given Ideas By Motivationist Here

Approximately 300 teachers, supervisors, and school board members spent a rollicking time Friday night at the 14th Annual Fifth District Classroom Teachers Association Public Relations Dinner at the Paragon Club in Monroe.

Causing all of the merriment among the educators, who represented 10 parishes in the area, was featured speaker Everett C. Lindsey, human motivationist with the Gulf Oil Corporation.

Lindsey coaxed and tricked 14 members of the audience into performing in costume as a chorus line. He said, "you've never seen the like of this in the country."

In a steady stream of patter he wove a lesson for the teachers on how to motivate their students.

In giving the definition of motivation for the group, he remarked that when his fee was high, he gave a long involved definition of the term. "Tonight," he said, "you get the short one."

He defined it as time, energy, and thought directed toward constructive human power.

He listed five factors involved in motivation. Aim in life, he said, was one of the most important. Only by appealing to the students aim in life could a teacher achieve the fullest potential of all gradations of students, those with great ability and gifts and those with lesser talents.

Praise is another very important part of motivation as is curiosity, Lindsey said. Fear, he indicated, was a strong force in motivation. He told the group that this appeared to be a negative aspect but said what he referred to was freedom from fear not fear, itself. Stressing the importance of the job was another method of infusing motivation into the student, Lindsey said. "If you do not know the importance of a lesson you have given one of your students to do, I suggest you throw it out of your curriculum," said Lindsey.

Keeping a strong hold on the class, Lindsey said, is very important in teaching. A teacher must know and believe that they have control in their classroom without outside interference to achieve the best results, the Oklahoma State graduate said.

Negro Man Shot Dead At Nightspot

DELHI (Special) — A 28-year-old Epps Negro, Sylvester Clark, was shot to death Friday night by a shotgun blast in a Madison Parish nightspot east of Delhi.

Booked for murder late Friday was John T. Barnett, negro, 23, also of Epps. According to Delhi Marshal Herman Hoover, Barnett is being held in the Madison Parish jail at Tallulah.

Hoover explained the shooting incident this way:

The two men became involved in a quarrel while gambling earlier in the afternoon. Barnett reportedly told Clark he was going to kill him, then left the scene.

Later in the evening, Barnett returned with a shotgun after which another quarrel started. Barnett then gunned Clark down, Hoover related accounts of witnesses.

Barnett was arrested at the night spot, about one mile east of Delhi, by Louisiana State Police.

Good Excuse

It's kind of surprising when a local track coach calls the newspaper from his home to find out how his track team did in something as important as a district meet. But, West Monroe coach Jack Williams had a legitimate excuse.

Jack's reason is six pound, seven ounce Steven Wade Williams, born Friday morning to his wife, Sue, while the Rebels were enroute to the District 1-AAA meet in Shreveport. Steven joins brother Jay, 3, in the growing Williams track squad. Jay has been pegged as a javelin thrower and Steven will be groomed as a shot putter. Father Jack ran the mile and two-mile at Northeast and says running is too much work.

Rex Reeves, 18-year-old son of Mrs. Nelva Reeves, Monroe, presently a senior at Woodlawn high school in Shreveport, appeared here recently with the "Peermonts," a Shreveport band, who played for the West Monroe senior prom held at the Progressive Men's Club. Reeves, who formerly attended Monroe schools, is now residing with his father in Shreveport, and is featured on the electric organ with the band who regularly plays at Barksdale Air Base and in other parts of the area.

Good Response

Bob Bealle, manager of the Monroe Convention and Tourist Bureau, a division of the Monroe Chamber of Commerce, was seen Friday morning on the plaza of the Government Center complex looking — if not contented — at least surrounded by an entourage of school children.

It seems as if a group of fourth, fifth and sixth graders had come from Downsville on a joint invitation of the Convention and Tourist Bureau and the Monroe City Council to see the new complex.

According to Bob, invitations were sent to all schools in the Fifth District. And with a smile at the approximately 40 children clustered about him, Bob said, "And there's been quite a response."

able in both elections for persons without receipts and the expected "small number" of voters not listed on tallies of assessment supplied by Mrs. Mae Lucky, registrar of voters.

In addition, for those not listed or not having tax receipts, amounts of assessment will be available throughout voting hours from Treasurer Mel Cook's office at Monroe City Hall and from Parish Assessor Odie Russell's office at the temporary courthouse building.

In the parish election, in which some 9,400 are eligible to vote, officials have combined Precincts 1 and 2 in Ward 6, with voting to be conducted at the Oaklawn Masonic Hall, usual polling place of Precinct 2 only. Also combined are Precincts 3 and 4 in Ward 5, with voting scheduled at Mitchell School, usual polling place of Precinct 4 only.

School officials Friday also stressed for clarification that several precincts in Wards 3 and 10, normally thought of as city wards, actually are included in the parish vote. Outside the city in Ward 3 are Precinct 9, voting at Fisher's store, and Precinct 10, voting at Shady Grove Elementary School. Outside the city in Ward 10 is Precinct 11, voting at Ouachita Parish High School.

School officials in both systems have expressed concern over the fate of today's tax voting, due to public sentiment over dual school systems and pending integration of all schools this fall.

Plaquemines Parish segregationist Leander Perez called on a crowd of more than 600 at the Paragon Club Thursday night to defeat any school tax that would support a desegregated school system. Perez, speaking on his topic of "Save Our Children," admitted the school system in Plaquemines Parish was "ruined" after being closed rather than operate mixed.

Ouachita Parish Supt. of Schools Milton Hall said Friday that Perez's statement had him puzzled. "You don't save your children by closing the schools," he commented.

Indian MPs Vote Today

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Elected representatives in Parliament and 17 state assemblies vote today with the political future of the world's largest democracy hanging in the balance.

Seventeen candidates appear on the secret ballots where 4,131 electors mark their choices, but the race weeks ago was narrowed to two leading candidates.

They are the ruling Congress Party's Zakir Husain, 70,

India's vice president since 1962; and the opposition's K. Subba Rao, 64, who resigned as Supreme Court chief justice to run for president.

For the first time, the previously ceremonial office of president is regarded as holding the key to the fate of former Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru's Congress Party.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Vote For The Renewal Of The Maintenance Tax Saturday, May 6

WHY:

The Maintenance Tax is necessary for the maintaining of our public school facilities, and without this money our schools cannot operate.

The Maintenance Tax is not a new tax but a renewal tax voted on every 5 years by the property owners to maintain our public schools.

WHAT IS THE MONEY USED FOR:

- To pay utilities of all the parish schools.
- To pay the salaries of maintenance employees that maintain our schools and busses.
- To buy new busses and supplies to maintain these busses in order to transport your children to school and back home.
- To buy books for our public school libraries.
- To furnish supplies for the testing program in our public schools.
- To buy equipment for the band program, music program, and physical education program.

WHO IS AGAINST THE MAINTENANCE TAX:

Just a few large land owners who are strictly concerned with their own selfish interest and not the welfare of a good education system in Ouachita Parish. Certainly we want to mention that most of our larger land owners are sincere and concerned about the future of education in Ouachita parish and are going to vote and support the maintenance tax.

WHY ARE THEY AGAINST THE MAINTENANCE TAX:

Their so-called reason for attempting to defeat the maintenance tax is that to do so will eliminate the dual school system in Ouachita Parish, but this is a false and misleading statement. Defeating the maintenance tax will not eliminate the problem and will only tend to create more problems and eventually lead to the closing of our public school system in Ouachita Parish. Therefore we contend that their only reason for being against the tax is for their own selfish interest.

WHO IS SUPPORTING THE MAINTENANCE TAX:

Parents who are concerned about their children's future and realize that a good educational system is important for their child's welfare.

Good citizens of Ouachita Parish who are more concerned about the continued growth of our educational system than they are about their own personal interest.

'VOTE YES TO KEEP OUR SCHOOLS FROM CLOSING'

Paid for by civic leaders, concerned parents and educators, Jerry Brossett, chairman, Wood Sers, Asst. Chairmen, Coach Jack Williams, Asst. Chairmen.

Favorable School Vote Asked

Rising costs and increased population have affected every phase of public and private life in the United States. Among our most important institutions connected with serving the youth of our country, this has been particularly true. And, of all these institutions, the schools are probably most directly affected by the population growth. In addition, school attendance now is almost universal, even among those who are handicapped. Perhaps, of all things, in order to be self-sustaining, the one thing a person needs most is an education.

For this reason, parish and city school officials are asking mild increases in the millage taxes through which they are given additional support. Property owners in Monroe and Ouachita Parish will vote on these issues today.

The reason for calling the election is the same in both city and parish: spiraling school costs. The specifics, however, are a little different.

The Monroe School Board is asking for (1) Renewal of its seven - mill maintenance tax and (2) an additional five mills to offset tremendous increases in school operations.

The Ouachita Parish School Board is simply requesting a two-mill increase to its current five-mill maintenance tax for a total of seven mills.

The News - Star and Morning World feel the funds are urgently needed if our school systems are to operate as they should and to keep pace with the ever increasing demands in the field of education. We sincerely hope that the property owners who will judge the issues and who have always answered the call of progress and of educational needs in the past will go to the polls and vote favorably on each proposition.

Although the requests are different, cost situations in each system are somewhat parallel. For example, there has not been an increase in city school millage since 1957 - 10 years ago. In the Ouachita system, the last increase was in 1947 - 20 years ago - and that was from four to five mills. Since these ancient dates, maintenance costs all down the line have soared. To use some parish figures first:

School buses that cost $2,000 in 1947 cost $6,000 - plus in 1966. A janitor's salary in 1947 was $90 per month. Today it is a minimum of $220. Costs for repair and upkeep of buildings and grounds almost doubled in the brief span between 1962 - 1966 from $26,645 to $50,012.

City school officials report similar rises. The cost of educating each child has gone up 43 per cent since 1957. At the same time, the number of children has increased 32 per cent.

Add to these statistics the cost of electricity, gas, water, telephone service, air conditioning and insurance, and you have a good idea of what school officials are confronted with in the immediate future. Even with the growth in population, costs have zoomed several times over.

Looking back through the years, it is somewhat amazing that both systems have been able to function as well as they have without increases in operational millage. Since 1947, the parish has built nine new modern schools. A great many others have just been replaced. The city, on the other hand, has built six new schools since 1957, including 3 new stadiums. In addition, old schools have been expanded, renovated and modernized.

A reasonable, common sense look at what has gone before and what lies ahead tells us that, without a doubt, an increase in school maintenance millage is necessary. For better school systems today and tomorrow, we owe it to our children to provide the best in equipment, maintenance and instruction. A favorable vote Saturday will go far in obtaining these things. Certainly we do not want to deprive our children of vital educational needs.

Johnson And Law

When anyone pauses to consider who will be named by President Johnson to succeed Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark when Clark retires later this year, he might well tremble at the awesome prospect. There are those who point out the tremendous responsibility Johnson faces in deciding the course the United States must pursue in the Vietnam War but there is some likelihood that the appointment of Justice Clark's successor will be an even greater responsibility. This single decision could turn the nation back toward a course of law and order or could plunge it even further along the path of insurrection, law violation and criminality.

The cause for trembling is the fact that there is some evidence that President Johnson deliberately brought about Clark's resignation in order to set up an even more "liberal" court. Justice Clark had announced that if his son Ramsey Clark were appointed attorney general of the United States he would resign his justice seat, since his position there might embarrass him or his son when the attorney general appeared before the court. We have not yet come to look upon Ramsey Clark as the equal of his father in fundamental government or in conservatism, and he still has to prove his position.

The naming of Ramsey Clark made it look as if President Johnson wanted to remove Justice Clark from the bench so that he might name another member of the Supreme Court.

Since last November, the Supreme Court has been concentrating more on strengthening the powers of law enforcement officers and less on searching for the vague rights of criminals. In almost a dozen cases since then, the court has upheld police eavesdropping, the use of informants and the planting of undercover agents.

Court observers say a major reason for the new trend has been that Justice Hugo L. Black has begun siding with Justices Clark, Harlan, Stewart and Byron R. White on close votes, thus giving a majority for the conservative side. White, although an appointee of the late President John F. Kennedy, appears to rely more on constitutional law and on a belief in the authority of the law than do the so-called liberal members of the court, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren.

There is some evidence also that the court as a whole is shifting to the attitude that new techniques are needed to combat urban violence and organized crime. As a result, one source said, there is doubt that President Johnson will be influenced by the defendant - vs. - police issue.

Yet, there is not the slightest doubt that the President should give this issue the most serious consideration. In an extremely large number of cases, the Supreme Court votes are 5-4. A switch of one vote to the so-called liberal side could mean a swing back to the side of the criminals and away from the law-enforcement officers.

Right now, there is scarcely anything more vital to the nation's welfare and to its very existence than regaining respect for law and order. Johnson's choice of a Supreme Court member may determine whether this country shall be a law-abiding nation or whether its people shall be terrorized and tormented by renegades whom the law has been rendered powerless to control.

Anti-Air Pollution Law Likely

Fines Would Be Faced By Industry Violators

CONGRESS, with an expected major assist from big business, this year likely will enact the first comprehensive air pollution act in the nation's history. Although the precise language of the legislation is unpredictable, the mood of Congress indicates that President Johnson will get about what he asked for in a special message to Congress earlier this year.

The Administration bill, introduced in the Senate by Edmund S. Muskie, Democrat, Maine, would require the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare set uniform standards for specific pollutants with which industries would have to comply or face stiff fines.

The proposed bill also would set up regional air commissions with authority over interstate "airsheds," to trace the responsibility for pollution and recommend ways to end it.

TO HELP CONTROL auto pollution, the bill would require gasoline companies to register all fuel additives, such as antiknock compounds, in order to make research easier.

President Johnson, perhaps sensing victory, has called on 12 government department and agencies to help develop a plan of controlling pollutants caused by the coal, oil and power industries.

AN HEW report claimed that pollution caused by the burning of coal and fuel oil regularly exposed almost all major U.S. cities to unhealthy amounts of sulphur dioxide. The coal industry reacted strongly, and recommended a "crash research program" to develop methods of controlling sulphur dioxide emissions so that coal could continue to be used in power plants.

At the same time, a coal industry spokesman endorsed the President's action, especially that part of his plan that calls for a $15,000,000 increase in the fiscal 1968 budget, bringing the total to $39,000,000, to fight air pollution. The money, Mr. Johnson said, will be used for research.

"LARGER SUMS will be needed and will be requested in future years," he added, "but the amounts cannot be determined until we have had a chance to measure our progress in 1967."

Industry reportedly feels that the Administration's proposals this year are a way out of the maze - and have over the pollution issue. A public opinion survey released in April indicated that there was more public support for expanded federal pollution control than for any other single domestic program.

And to make matters worse, the industries are having to deal with at least 140 separate governmental authorities, including 34 State agencies, on pollution.

What industry wants, it is said, are uniform federal standards, applied nationwide, that would supplant the complex tangle of regulations now administered by the various State and local pollution control agencies.

AN EXAMPLE of the willingness of industry to cooperate with the federal government occurred earlier this year when the Association of Railroad Car Dismantlers asked the Public Health Service to help it find a way to get rid of 100,000 worn out boxcars each year.

The old freight cars are now burned before valuable scrap metal and reusable parts are salvaged from them. This open burning, however, produces heavy black smoke and offensive odors which are both a community nuisance and a potential hazard to health.

The Public Health Service's National Center for Urban and Industrial Health studied the problem, then awarded a $50,000 contract to a Bethesda, Maryland firm to develop proposals and recommendations for dismantling the boxcars.

Health Service officials feel the recommendations will be a significant step forward in disposing of bulky wastes and might be applicable also to the disposal of junk autos.

THROUGH BURNING obsolete boxcars might present a problem in some areas, the major single source of air pollution in the nation is car exhaust fumes, which account for half the estimated 135 million tons of pollutants that enter the atmosphere each year.

Richard Nixon is not exactly in between - his position much more closely resembles Goldwater's than Percy's. General Eisenhower, the old soldier, has already spoken: he is in favor of winning the war; but he is not much listened to nowadays. It is Mr. Nixon who is the best qualified to develop the Republican line, and it is opportune that he should speak now.

News In Agricultural Areas Continues Bad

THE NEWS FROM the nation's agricultural areas continues bad, but there's no recession for the bureaucrats entrusted with the task of improving the farmer's lot. The figures tell the story.

According to the Tax Foundation, a non-profit organization in New York, the number of farms in the United States has declined 25 per cent in the last eight years. Furthermore, the Foundation states, "For 1967 the number is expected to drop to 3.2 million, roughly 28 per cent down from 1936 when there were 4.5 million farms."

Between 1950 and 1965, the number of persons working on farms fell about 38 per cent. But in a roughly similar period, running to 1966, "Department of Agriculture employees increased from 90,723 to 129,024, a jump of 42 per cent." In that time, says the Joint Congressional Committee on Reduction of Non-Essential Expenditures, monthly salaries of Agriculture Department bureaucrats rose from $31 million to $58 million, or almost double.

AT THE SAME time, the appropriations for supporting prices and increasing farm income have zoomed into the wild blue yonder. But what has the farmer received for it? Is he better off, now that there is an Agriculture Department worker for every 26 farms? (The ratio was one to 50 in 1956.) Or is the farmer confronted once more by the variation on the old saying: The bureaucrats get richer while the poor get poorer?

Today farm debt is up 10 per cent, averaging $1,200 per farm. Representative Odlin Langen (R-Minn.) has noted that "while estimated annual personal income from non-agricultural sources rose eight per cent from March, 1966 to March, 1967, estimated annual personal income from farming dropped 16 per cent. This adds up to a real depression for the American farmer and accounts for the 122,000 farms forced out of business last year, according to Mr. Langen, and, he says, at least another 82,000 more farmers will be wiped out in 1967."

ALL THE bureaucratic "help" from Washington, moreover, does not seem to protect the American farmer from the rest of the Administration or its policies. While farm income declines, imports are allowed into the country to compete with a weakening sector of the economy. Dairy products are a case in point.

Representative Langen, chairman of a Republican Task Force on Agriculture, points out that enough dairy products were imported last year to equal the output of 6,000 American farms with 50 cows each. Cheese imports increased from 2.8 million pounds to 3.7 million pounds and the White House is urging the Tariff Commission to allow 9.6 million pounds in the future. Beef and veal imports, he asserted, were up 27 per cent in 1966, pork imports 14 per cent, and mutton 102 per cent.

For Great Society strategists, the present sad state of American agriculture is not a matter for deep concern. In the Congress, the farm bloc has lost much of its former political power. In an urbanized nation the farm vote presents few terrors, and to an Administration so closely allied to the "big city" machines a rebellion of farmers raises no hackles.

IN THE COMING election, however, the Democrats will need every vote, popular or in the Electoral College, to re-elect President Johnson. The Midwest was once a Republican bastion, and trouble on the farms could well restore it to the GOP. The effects may not be tremendous in the House of Representatives, but each farm state has as many votes in the Senate as New York or Pennsylvania.

Far more significant than these political considerations are the economic concomitants. In 1929, while the stock market and the industrial economy were booming, the farm states were racked by troubles that eventually hit the entire nation. Today we see the same low farm prices and the same high consumer prices for farm products. There may not be an analogy, but the bureaucrats of the Agriculture Department would do well to consider that history may be repeating itself. That, presumably, is one of the "things" they are paid to do.

Westmoreland Views Properly Requested

PRESIDENT Johnson's move to bring Gen. William Westmoreland home to speak out on the situation in Vietnam was wise, proper and should be supported by persons on all sides of the issue of the war there.

At root, all of the arguments made against Gen. Westmoreland's trip were simply expressions of fear of the truth - ways of saying that the truth hurts too much and we don't want to hear it.

This includes the criticism of the general's frank statement that domestic war critics may lengthen rather than shorten the war by their activities.

He did not say or even suggest that steps be taken to suppress dissent. I support Gen. Westmoreland on his statement and certainly do not suggest censorship nor suppression. Whether war critics like it or not, the hard fact is that their activities (particularly when they lead to organized demonstrations such as the recent display at the United Nations) do serve the enemy's purposes, no matter what other purposes.

HANOI IS NOT likely to shorten the war by an hour, minute or second because of the activities of so-called doves. Rather, Hanoi reasonably can be expected to view such activities as very good reason for hanging on a bit longer.

This does not mean that critics of the war should be forced to shut up. But they should face the truth about what they are doing and recognize that the price of their dissent will be written in blood. If the price still strikes them as right, they continue to have freedom of speech. (I would quickly add, however, that such freedom scarcely should be extended to cover acts such as sending supplies to the enemy.)

The "can't face the truth" attitude also supplies to those who criticize the appearances of Gen. Westmoreland as an improper exploitation of his military position to support the administration's political position.

If there was any indication on earth that Gen. Westmoreland was saying anything in which he didn't deeply believe, there might be some basis for this criticism. As it is, however, the general's appearance was obviously as honest as the day is long. No one suggests otherwise.

FAR FROM BEING improper, the decision to bring this outstanding military man back to report on the war was one of the most candid and open actions this administration has taken in regard to the war.

It has been impossible for the President to get anything but half-truths and no-truths out of Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara on the subject of Vietnam.

Thus, Gen. Westmoreland's appearance marked one of the few times our people have ever had to hear a top official level with them about the war and its progress.

I would suggest that such reports to the people become a regular practice.

Rather than criticize this practice, even the harshest critics of the war should applaud it. They should be as interested as anyone else in getting truthful reports of the battle.

Unfortunately, however, many of the loudest critics want anything but the truth. They prefer to move on, unburdened by facts, borne along only by the power of their passions and the fuel of their emotions.

A public opinion survey released in April indicated that there was more public support for expanded federal pollution control than for any other single domestic program.

And to make matters worse, the industries are having to deal with at least 140 separate governmental authorities, including 34 State agencies, on pollution.

What industry wants, it is said, are uniform federal standards, applied nationwide, that would supplant the complex tangle of regulations now administered by the various State and local pollution control agencies.

AN EXAMPLE of the willingness of industry to cooperate with the federal government occurred earlier this year when the Association of Railroad Car Dismantlers asked the Public Health Service to help it find a way to get rid of 100,000 worn out boxcars each year.

The old freight cars are now burned before valuable scrap metal and reusable parts are salvaged from them. This open burning, however, produces heavy black smoke and offensive odors which are both a community nuisance and a potential hazard to health.

The Public Health Service's National Center for Urban and Industrial Health studied the problem, then awarded a $50,000 contract to a Bethesda, Maryland firm to develop proposals and recommendations for dismantling the boxcars.

Health Service officials feel the recommendations will be a significant step forward in disposing of bulky wastes and might be applicable also to the disposal of junk autos.

THROUGH BURNING obsolete boxcars might present a problem in some areas, the major single source of air pollution in the nation is car exhaust fumes, which account for half the estimated 135 million tons of pollutants that enter the atmosphere each year.

The government is working on this problem. Beginning with 1968 model year cars, anti-pollution devices will be required on all vehicles and more controls are proposed for 1969 model cars.

Other major pollution sources include manufacturing and power plants, furnaces fueled by coal or heating oil and garbage dumps.

Though there has been some grumbling on Capitol Hill, favorable action this year seems highly likely because pollution is an obvious problem.

News In Agricultural Areas Continues Bad

THE NEWS FROM the nation's agricultural areas continues bad, but there's no recession for the bureaucrats entrusted with the task of improving the farmer's lot. The figures tell the story.

According to the Tax Foundation, a non-profit organization in New York, the number of farms in the United States has declined 25 per cent in the last eight years. Furthermore, the Foundation states, "For 1967 the number is expected to drop to 3.2 million, roughly 29 per cent down from 1956 when there were 4.5 million farms."

Between 1950 and 1965, the number of persons working on farms fell about 36 per cent. But in a roughly similar period, running to 1966, "Department of Agriculture employees increased from 90,723 to 129,024, a jump of 42 per cent." In that time, says the Joint Congressional Committee on Reduction of Non-Essential Expenditures, monthly salaries of Agriculture Department bureaucrats rose from $31 million to $58 million, or almost double.

AT THE SAME time, the appropriations for supporting prices and increasing farm income have zoomed into the wild blue yonder. But what has the farmer received for it? Is he better off, now that there is an Agriculture Department worker for every 26 farms? (The ratio was one to 50 in 1956.) Or is the farmer confronted once more by the variation on the old saying: The bureaucrats get richer while the poor get poorer?

Today farm debt is up 10 per cent, averaging $1,200 per farm. Representative Odin Langen (R-Minn.) has noted that "while estimated annual personal income from non-agricultural sources rose eight per cent from March, 1966 to March, 1967, estimated annual personal income from farming dropped 16 per cent. This adds up to a real depression for the American farmer and accounts for the 122,000 farms forced out of business last year, according to Mr. Langen, and, he says, at least another 82,000 more farmers will be wiped out in 1967."

ALL THE bureaucratic "help" from Washington, moreover, does not seem to protect the American farmer from the rest of the Administration or its policies. While farm income declines, imports are allowed into the country to compete with a weakening sector of the economy. Dairy products are a case in point.

Representative Langen, chairman of a Republican Task Force on Agriculture, points out that enough dairy products were imported last year to equal the output of 6,000 American farms with 50 cows each. Cheese imports increase from 2.8 million pounds to 3.7 million pounds and the White House is urging the Tariff Commission to allow 9.6 million pounds in the future. Beef and veal imports, he asserted, were up 27 per cent in 1966, pork imports 14 per cent, and mutton 102 per cent.

For Great Society strategists, the present sad state of American agriculture is not a matter for deep concern. In the Congress, the farm bloc has lost much of its former political power. In an urbanized nation the farm vote presents few terrors, and to an Administration so closely allied to the "big city" machines a rebellion of farmers raises no hackles.

IN THE COMING election, however, the Democrats will need every vote, popular or in the Electoral College, to re-elect President Johnson. The Midwest was once a Republican bastion, and trouble on the farms could well restore it to the GOP. The effects may not be tremendous in the House of Representatives, but each farm state has as many votes in the Senate as New York or Pennsylvania.

Far more significant than these political considerations are the economic concomitants. In 1929, while the stock market and the industrial economy were booming, the farm states were racked by troubles that eventually hit the entire nation. Today we see the same low farm prices and the same high consumer prices for farm products. There may not be an analogy, but the bureaucrats of the Agriculture Department would do well to consider that history may be repeating itself. That presumption, is one of the "kinks" they are paid to do.

Westmoreland Views Properly Requested

PRESIDENT Johnson's move to bring Gen. William Westmoreland home to speak out on the situation in Vietnam was wise, proper and should be supported by persons on all sides of the issue of the war there.

At root, all of the arguments made against Gen. Westmoreland's trip were simply expressions of fear of the truth—ways of saying that the truth hurts too much and we don't want to hear it.

This includes the criticism of the general's frank statement that domestic war critics may lengthen rather than shorten the war by their activities.

He did not say or even suggest that steps be taken to suppress dissent. I support Gen. Westmoreland on his statement and certainly do not suggest censorship nor suppression. Whether war critics like it or not, the hard fact is that their activities (particularly when they lead to organized demonstrations such as the recent display at the United Nations) do serve the enemy's purposes, no matter what other purposes.

HANOI IS NOT likely to shorten the war by an hour, minute or second because of the activities of so-called doves. Rather, Hanoi reasonably can be expected to view such activities as very good reason for hanging on a bit longer.

This does not mean that critics of the war should be forced to shut up. But they should face the truth about what they are doing and recognize that the price of their dissent will be written in blood. If the price still strikes them as right, they continue to have freedom of speech. (I would quickly add, however, that such freedom scarcely should be extended to cover acts such as sending supplies to the enemy.)

The "can't face the truth" attitude also supplies to those who criticize the appearance of Gen. Westmoreland as an improper exploitation of his military position to support the administration's political position.

If there was any indication on earth that Gen. Westmoreland was saying anything in which he didn't deeply believe, there might be some basis for this criticism. As it was, however, the general's appearance was obviously as honest as the day is long. No one suggests otherwise.

FAR FROM BEING improper, the decision to bring this outstanding military man back to report on the war was one of the most candid and open actions this administration has taken in regard to the war.

It has been impossible for the President to get anything but half-truths and no-truths out of Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara on the subject of Vietnam.

Thus, Gen. Westmoreland's appearance marked one of the few times our people have ever had to hear a top official level with them about the war and its progress.

I would suggest that such reports to the people become a regular practice.

Rather than criticize this practice, even the harshest critics of the war should applaud it. They should be as interested as anyone else in getting truthful reports of the battle.

Unfortunately, however, many of the loudest critics want anything but the truth. They prefer to move on, unburdened by facts, borne along only by the power of their passions and the fuel of their emotions.

Man Returns Five Dollars To School

A nagging conscience apparently prodded an anonymous West Monroe man into sending five dollars to an elementary school to replace some money he said he had stolen "many years ago" at a school bingo party.

Principal James W. Walters of Ransom Elementary School in West Monroe told of receiving the "most unusual" letter containing the five dollars in Thursday's mail.

Written in a shaky hand on torn notebook paper the author asked that the money be used to help "some needy child" so that "I feel better". The money was wrapped in the note, Walters said.

Walters said the money would be used to buy haircuts for several underprivileged children at the school.

In the letter the man admitted taking five, or six 50 cent pieces at the bingo party. Walters could not guess who might have sent the letter but said that such bingo parties had not been given in the school district for "at least 20 years."

The writer went on to say "I feel so ashamed and guilty all these years" and added, "I am able to pay it back and a little over now." He closed the letter by saying "to be honest pays."

"It makes you feel good to know that this kind of honesty still exists."

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP)—A suit which seeks to enjoin the Winn Parish School Board from operating a dual and biracial public school system was filed in U.S. District Court here. Entered in behalf of Negro students in Winn Parish, the pe-tion requested that the court issue a temporary restraining order against the school system to be followed by a permanent injunction.

The action was instituted in order to enforce the Negroes' rights under the 14th Amendment, the suit said.

Five Charged Here With Shoplifting

Monroe police Friday reported the arrest of five Negro teenagers on charges of shoplifting.

According to officers, four girls, two 16 - years - old, 15 and one 13 were arrested Friday in connection with the theft of clothing from Barker's Department Store Wednesday.

The youths were turned over to juvenile authorities.

Frank Benjamin Sewell, 18, 422 N. 22nd St., Monroe was also arrested by officers in connection with the theft of an umbrella from Woolworth's Department Store in Twin Cities Shopping Center.

Meanwhile, West Monroe police reported the recovery of a car stolen Sunday night from the residence of Mrs. M. C. Williams, 307 Vernon St., West Monroe.

Officers said the deserted car was discovered in Waynesboro, Miss. Friday.

West Monroe police are working in conjunction with the Federal Bureau of Investigation to apprehend suspects, officers said.

After her arrest late Friday at Morgan and Lindsay's Department Store Irma G. Wilson, 4531 Lincoln St., Monroe, was charged with theft.

In other action, police charged Carl C. Moore, 31, 602 Dixie St., with aggravated battery.

Monroe Man Awarded Medal

RUSTON (Special) — Marion Philip Guthrie III, son of Mrs. Aileen P. Guthrie and the late Marion P. Guthrie Jr. of Monroe, was awarded the Achievement Medal of the Society of Louisiana Certified Public Accountants in ceremonies recently at Louisiana Tech.

Announcement of the award was made by Larry W. Seab, member of the Monroe chapter of the Society of Louisiana Certified Public Accountants. He said that each year the society recognizes the accounting major with the highest four-year average graduating from Louisiana colleges and universities designated to receive the award.

Violation Of Law Seen By Parker

ALEXANDRIA (Special) — Rapides Parish Rep. Larry Parker said the legislature charged Friday the Department of Public Safety is violating state law by not paying state policemen time and a half for overtime work.

Parker said he will institute a move in the upcoming fiscal session of the legislature to force retroactive overtime payments dating back to July, 1966.

The legislature last year enacted a law requiring time and a half pay for any work over 40 hours done by state employees.

Parker charges that the law has been "quietly ignored by the Department of Public Safety" and that state policemen have continued to work a 48 hour week without the extra compensation. Parker said the legislature in 1966 raised auto registration fees from one to three dollars with the extra two dollars earmarked for two purposes — to hire 100 extra troopers so that no one would have to work overtime and to provide time and a half pay in case anyone did work overtime.

"I am puzzled as to why the money has not been put to its designated use," said Parker.

School Band To Perform At Concert

The Wossman High School Band, under the direction of Ford Alford, will present its first Annual Spring Concert in the new air-conditioned auditorium Monday at 7:30 p.m.

During the 1966-67 school year, the band has taken part in football game half-time activities, assemblies, pep-rallies and parades. Plans for next year include continuing participation in school and community activities as well as a proposed concert tour in neighboring states.

Another achievement of the Band was the cutting of its first record. These records will shortly be on sale to the public.

Cuban Exile Lodges Suit Against Book

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Dr. Carlos Bringuier, a Cuban exile leader who testified before the Warren Commission, filed a $1 million suit Friday against author and publisher Harold Weisberg, a critic of the commission.

Bringuier said Weisberg's book, "Whitewash" exposed him "to disrepute and ridicule and lowers him in the opinion of his colleagues, his business associates, the general public, his friends and family."

He accused Weisberg of picturing him as "one who is dishonest, a prevaricator and a pretentious traitor to the United States of America."

AN OPEN LETTER
To The Residents of
Monroe, West Monroe & N.E. Louisiana

Ten years ago the name VAN-TROW was new to the people of the Monroe area. We came to town to sell Cadillac and Oldsmobile and immediately realized the urgent need for service after the sale of America's two finest automobiles. In order to give SERVICE, you have to stay have the facilities, as we built the finest in Monroe. Now, ten years later, we are ready to move into NEW and still finer facilities to render still better SERVICE.

But you know, something else has happened within those ten years... Americans have realized their need for a TRUE ECONOMY CAR. So... in an effort to make VAN-TROW YOUR "one stop" automotive headquarters we started looking around for the absolute BEST in this field. After many months of serious consideration and investigation, the answer was too obvious... nothing built in Germany, Italy or Japan, but an honest to goodness American built "subcompact". This is the best in the field — and you imagine a 6-passenger car in the $1600.00 price range, with a 50,000 mile guarantee? Come by to-day and look at our complete line of American Motors Cars.

Yours truly,
A. T. Van Vekhoven

P. S. A warm welcome to all the present owners of American Motor Cars. Your service is invited to VAN-TROW where factory trained personnel will honor your warrant and give the outstanding maintenance "Van-Van" to America's cars.

Trend Of Investigation Leans Toward Links In CIA

Article Puts Oswald As Undercover Man

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Item said, "will show" that "Oswald was not a Communist." The Warren Commission decided that Oswald was a confuted, Communist-oriented young man who was driven to kill Kennedy by a deep need for public recognition. The New Orleans gun-toting district attorney, often flamboyant and unorthodox, has been conducting his own investigation into the Kennedy slaying since last fall. He has obtained a grand jury indictment of wealthy, retired businessman Clay L. Shaw on a charge of conspiring to murder the president. The States-Item said its latest information came from informed sources "as additional evidence pointed increasingly toward a deep involvement of U.S. Central Intelligence Agency activities among certain principals in the district attorney's continuing inquiry."

The sources, the newspaper continued, "painted a picture of Oswald which was diametrically opposed to the one sketched by the Warren Commission." Marguerite Oswald, his wife, claimed on several occasions that her son Lee was some sort of government agent. Last fall she declared in a radio interview that "my son went to Russia with the full knowledge of the Marine Corps and my government" in 1960. The New Orleans-born Oswald went to the Soviet Union in 1959 after being released from Marine Corps service. He attempted to renounce his U.S. citizenship. In 1962, he returned to this country with a Russian wife and a baby daughter.

Dodd Ally Puts Halt To Dinner

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — A Connecticut political ally of Sen. Thomas J. Dodd on Friday put aside plans to honor the senator with a testimonial dinner — the kind of event that figured in a recommendation to censure Dodd by the Senate ethics committee.

New Haven Democratic Chairman Arthur T. Barbieri announced he was bowing to Dodd's "insistence" that he drop his plans. Barbieri had announced the testimonial Tuesday — six days after the censure recommendation — and said he would go through with it even though Dodd had asked him not to the same day.

Barbieri has not completely given up his idea, however. He said he hoped "that in the near future an opportunity will arise for me to confer with Tom and ultimately receive his permission to sponsor the event."

The New Haven Democratic leader, who has been the strongest Dodd supporter while Connecticut Democratic leaders kept their silence, said the $100-a-plate Dodd event would have been "the greatest dinner ever attended."

It obviously would not have been attended by the top Democrats of the state. Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, Dodd's fellow Connecticut Democrat, said Barbieri's earlier decision to go through with the dinner over Dodd's objections was "an absolute outrage."

John M. Bailey, the national and Connecticut Democratic chairman, Gov. John Dempsey, and several of the state's congressmen said they would not attend the dinner under the circumstances.

Dodd, who was found by the ethics committee to have used at least $116,083 for his personal purposes from politically raised campaign and testimonial funds, wrote to Barbieri that he was "deeply moved" by the dinner plans.

"However, even at the risk of disappointing you, I must ask that you please don't do it," he said.

Dodd said he was "flattered by the news that within hours of your announcement scores of people had signified their desire to participate in such a testimonial."

Barbieri said he was "motivated by my fervent desire to help the senator rather than hurt him" in calling off the dinner plans.

Barbieri was among those who collected affidavits from persons who attended previous Dodd dinners to show that they understood beforehand proceeds were for Dodd's personal use.

To underline his point that there is nothing wrong with such dinners, he had announced that money collected from his planned Dodd testimonial could be used any way Dodd wanted.

Democratic leaders in Connecticut, meanwhile, are taking steps through a bill in the legislature to limit fund-raising events to two per candidate in an election and to tighten regulations for reporting campaign contributions.

Trend Of Investigation Leans Toward Links In CIA

Article Puts Oswald As Undercover Man

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — The New Orleans States-Item said in a copyright story Friday that Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison will seek to show that Lee Harvey Oswald was an undercover agent who aided the cause of anti-Castro Cubans here.

"Garrison's investigation is said to have taken a definite trend toward what are believed to be indications that persons employed by the CIA were responsible for Kennedy's death," the newspaper said.

The Warren Commission, named by President Johnson to investigate the assassination of President John F. Kennedy in Dallas, Tex., on Nov. 22, 1963, reached the conclusion that Oswald was the sole assassin.

Garrison's Kennedy assassination investigation, the States-

Item said, "will show" that "Oswald was not a Communist."

The Warren Commission decided that Oswald was a confused, Communist-oriented young man who was driven to kill Kennedy by a deep need for public recognition.

The New Orleans gun-toting district attorney, often flamboyant and unorthodox, has been conducting his own investigation into the Kennedy slaying since last fall. He has obtained a grand jury indictment of wealthy, retired businessman Clay L. Shaw on a charge of conspiring to murder the president.

The States-Item said its latest information came from informed sources "as additional evidence pointed increasingly toward a deep involvement of U.S. Central Intelligence Agency activities among certain principals in the district attorney's continuing inquiry."

The sources, the newspaper continued, "painted a picture of Oswald which was diametrically opposed to the one sketched by the Warren Commission."

Marguerite Oswald has claimed on several occasions that her son Lee was some sort of government agent. Last fall she declared in a radio interview that "my son went to Russia with the full knowledge of The Marine Corps and my government" in 1960.

The New Orleans-born Oswald went to the Soviet Union in 1959 after being released from Marine Corps service. He attempted to renounce his U.S. citizenship. In 1962, he returned to this country with a Russian wife and a baby daughter.

Garrison said Garrison's office believes that Oswald's activities here in behalf of the pro-Castro Fair Play for Cuba Committee were "no more than a cover for his real job as an operative who worked closely with militant anti-Communist Cuban groups."

The newspapers said the investigations of Oswald's dealings in New Orleans are said to center on the fact that he used the address of a Camp Street building which also housed the offices of two avowedly anti-Communist organizations.

In 1979, George Seden of Rochester, N.Y., filed papers for the first automobile patent. It was granted to him Nov. 5, 1895.

Dodd Ally Puts Halt To Dinner

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — A Connecticut political ally of Sen. Thomas J. Dodd on Friday put aside plans to honor the senator with a testimonial dinner — the kind of event that figured in a recommendation to censure Dodd by the Senate ethics committee.

New Haven Democratic Chairman Arthur T. Barbieri announced he was bowing to Dodd's "insistence" that he drop his plans. Barbieri had announced the testimonial Tuesday — six days after the censure recommendation — and said he would go through with it even though Dodd had asked him not to the same day.

Barbieri has not completely given up his idea, however. He said he hoped "that in the near future an opportunity will arise for me to confer with Tom and ultimately receive his permission to sponsor the event."

The New Haven Democratic leader, who has been the strongest Dodd supporter while Connecticut Democratic leaders kept their silence, said the $100-a-plate Dodd event would have been "the greatest dinner ever attended."

It obviously would not have been attended by the top Democrats of the state. Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, Dodd's fellow Connecticut Democrat, said Barbieri's earlier decision to go through with the dinner over Dodd's objections was "an absolute outrage."

John M. Bailey, the national and Connecticut Democratic chairman, Gov. John Dempsey, and several of the state's congressmen said they would not attend the dinner under the circumstances.

Dodd, who was found by the ethics committee to have used at least $116,083 for his personal purposes from politically raised campaign and testimonial funds, wrote to Barbieri that he was "deeply moved" by the dinner plans.

"However, even at the risk of disappointing you, I must ask that you please don't do it," he said.

Dodd said he was "flattered by the news that within hours of your announcement scores of people had signified their desire to participate in such a testimonial."

Barbieri said he was "motivated by my fervent desire to help the senator rather than hurt him" in calling off the dinner plans.

Barbieri was among those who collected affidavits from persons who attended previous Dodd dinners to show that they understood beforehand proceeds were for Dodd's personal use. To underline his point that there is nothing wrong with such dinners, he had announced that money collected from his planned Dodd testimonial could be used any way Dodd wanted.

Democratic leaders in Connecticut, meanwhile, are taking steps through a bill in the legislature to limit fund-raising events to two per candidate in an election and to tighten regulations for reporting campaign contributions.

The motion to censure Dodd may come up in the Senate next week. Ribicoff denied Friday that he would refrain from voting on the issue, an extremely sensitive one in Connecticut politics.

"I will definitely vote on the motion to censure and will state the reasons at the time I announce my vote," Ribicoff said.

CORNER NORTH 5th & PINE ST., MONROE, LOUISIANA

Damascus 2-1 Derby Favorite

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—All was calm on the backstretch at Churchill Downs Friday, where a highly strung 3-year-old thoroughbred awaited today's run for riches and roses in the 83rd Kentucky Derby.

However, there were rumblings of discontent elsewhere in this horse-minded city as advocates of an open housing bill threatened the smooth running of American's No. 1 horse race spectacle.

Here were the developments in the backstretch as city, national and state officials checked their plans to break up any disturbances that might interfere with the $162,200 1 1/4-mile race with victory worth $119,700.

Patrice Jacob's California Derby winner Reason to Roar turned up with a slight case of the hives. However, trainer Hirsch Jacobs, father of the colt's owner was not too concerned.

"It's nothing serious," said the popular red-headed trainer who has saddled more winners than any other trainer in history. "He's had it before and it goes down just as quickly as it comes up. You'll recall Exhibitionist had the same ailment last year before the Derby."

Damascus, the 2-1 favorite to win the major share of the purse, the coveted gold trophy and the blanket of red roses, worked three-eighths of a mile in 35 3/5 seconds and trainer Frank Whiteley Jr. said the son of Sword Dancer was ready for the supreme test.

Damascus will carry the famous white and red dot silks which have been borne by three Derby winners — Gallant Fox, Omaha and Johnstown. He is owned jointly by Mrs. William Woodward Sr., widow of the founder of the Belair Stud, and her daughter Mrs. Edith Bancroft. Mrs. Woodward, 84, was scheduled to be present.

Successor, with trainer Eddie Neely remembering how badly the colt broke from the start, gate in the recent Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland, worked from the gate in an unusual day before the Derby prep. The son of Bold Ruler clipped off three-eighths of a mile in 35 3/5 seconds. Neely was satisfied.

Ruken, the 7-2 second choice, took things easy but trainer Clyde Turk said the big son of Nashville, winner of the Santa Anita Derby, would be out early today for an easy gallop of one mile. Even though the California is a slow starter, Turk expressed satisfaction over the No. 1 post position. Damascus will start from No. 2.

Proud Clarion, quoted at 15-1 in the pre-race odds compiled by the track handicapper, blew out three-eighths of a mile in 35 3/5 seconds and eased up the half-mile in 49. "Very nice," said trainer Lloyd Gentry.

Louisiana Derby winner Ask the Fare also worked three-eighths but trainer Jerry Smith was unable to catch the time for the entire distance. He did clock his colt in 25 seconds for the last quarter.

Dr. Isby, who'll have Bill Har- tack board in quest of his fifth

Dr. Isby, who'll have Bill Har- tack board in quest of his fifth derby triumph, also worked three-eighths in 35 seconds and 78-year-old trainer, Frank Childs said "it was fine."

All of the others confined their day's activities to gallops or walks around the shed. They were Diplomat Way, Daqn, Glory, Field Master, Gentleman James, Lightning Orphan, Barbs Delight and Second Encounter.

Riding assignments were finally completed with trainer Hal Steele Jr. announcing that Kenny Knapp will be aboard Derby Trial winner Barbs Delight and trainer Ted Cleveland placing Billy Phelps on Second Encounter, a rank outsider purchased early in the week by Nieson Harris and Joe Pierce for $30,000.

All 14 are expected to be in the line-up for the 5:30 p.m. EDT start; although there is a prospect of an off track. The weatherman says there is a 40 per cent chance of rain. The race will be carried on nationwide television by CBS from 5-6 p.m. EDT and by CBS radio from 5:15-5:45.

While the horsemen went quietly about the last minute tasks of preparing for the colorful race before an expected crowd of 100,000, there were more and more reports that advocates of open housing would attempt to disrupt the running of the race.

In the latest development, two of the three bands withdrew Friday. Only the University of Louisville band will be on hand and its director has asked for guards.

The Louisville Male High School band withdrew after Ray Boesser, its director, had received threats in an anonymous telephone call. The same decision was made by the Lincoln High School band of Vincennes, Ind.

Boesser said the telephone caller told him, "If you show up at the Derby, your life will be in danger—and you can tell the other band directors the same holds true for them." Male's band is integrated, as is the University of Louisville organization.

Rozelle To Hold Off On Jim Taylor

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle said Friday he doesn't plan to get involved in the case of free agent Jimmy Taylor "unless it becomes necessary."

Rozelle came to New Orleans to present the Saints with their official franchise document. He said he had discussed Taylor with Saints president John W. Mecom Jr., but had no plans to meet with the ex-Green Bay Packer star.

Taylor played out his option with the Packers and became a free agent Monday. He reportedly is asking $100,000 for his services for the 1967 season and has talked to the Saints, the Atlanta Falcons and the Washington Redskins.

Packer Coach Vince Lombardi is said to be demanding the No. 1 draft choice for the next three years for Taylor's release. Even though the former LSU star has played out his option, the Packers must agree to his release before he can play for another club.

"You have to remember a team has a big investment in a player," Rozelle said. "They've spent money to sign him and develop him and it's only fair they receive compensation according to that player's value to the team."

Gary Heard Signs Pact With Canines

RUSTON, (Special)—Gary Heard, all-district center on Ruston High School's 1-AAA basketball team, up, became the basketball star to sing a grant-in-aid with Louisiana Tech this week.

Athletic Director Joe Aillet announced the addition of Heard's name to a list which already included all-staters George Corley of Florien and Edgar Perkins of Pitkin. Head Basketball Coach Scotty Robertson signed the Bearcat.

Heard, a 6-4 193-pounder, played the post during most of his prep career, although he also saw some action at forward. He warmed up for stardom as a junior by averaging 12 points and six rebounds a game, but really came into his own in Ruston's first campaign as a triple-A school.

The big youngster scored 272 points, good for a fine 20.1 average, during the 1966-67 season, and pulled down 387 rebounds for a 12-per-game norm.

Demons Hold On To First Place

HAMMOND, La. (AP)—Reliever Don Shields came in to put down Southeastern Louisiana uprisings in the late innings of both games as Northwestern State swept a Gulf States Conference doubleheader, 7-3 and 6-4, and maintained its grip on first place Friday.

Shields preserved Wayne Jowers' victory in the first game, and Mike Herron hit a bases-loaded homer in the sixth for the Demons.

NSC got three homers in the nightcap, with Harry Wilmore accounting for two and Don Robinson adding a third. Gary Johnson got credit for the victory while Jack Vaughn was tagged with the loss. Gary McKensie of SLC was the loser in the first game.

A PAIR OF Northeast freshmen, hurdler Richard Polk, left, and weightman John Hollinsworth, are sleeper entries in the Fifth Annual Northeast Invitational track and field meet today.

The meet will be held at Brown Stadium, East Texas State University is expected to be the chief rival for the Indians, who have won all previous Northeast Invitational.

Northeast Shoots At 5th Invitational

Host Northeast State will try to make it five championships in a row in the Northeast Invitational Track and Field Meet Saturday night in Brown Stadium.

The meet will begin at 6:30 with field events. Northeast has been the only champion the invitational has ever had, winning by as many as 38 1/2 points last year to as few as 12 in the first meet in 1963.

One of Northeast's most consistent challengers, East Texas State, shapes up as the principal obstacle between Bob Groseclose's Indians and a fifth championship. ETS, second in 1964 and third the past two years, is weak in the field but has a splendid group of runners led by one of the world's top sprinters, rookie John Carlos.

Other teams entered are Louisiana Tech, McNeese and Northwestern.

Four 1966 individual champions are back to defend their title — Ronnie Fountain, Roger Mann and Milton Grubbs of Northeast had Bob Dufalo of Northwestern.

Fountain won the 100 and 220 last year and holds the records for both events, set in 1965. He has been plagued by leg injuries this spring, however, and may not be able to run. Carlos, with times of 9.2 (WA) and 20.3, is favored to take the sprints.

Mann won the 440-yard intermediate hurdles in 1966 but faces strong competition from Tech's Grey Easterling and Wayne Williams and ETS' Terry Burnett.

Grubbs set the record of 6-9 1/2 in the high jump last year. Dufalo was a double winner in 1966, taking the 800 and the mile. He has not been up to top form this year and appears likely to lose his mile crown to teammate Paul Trueman, who has clocked a 4:14.5.

Byrd Upsets Favored Fair Park; Neville Is 3rd In 1-AAA Track

By BUTCH MUIR
World Sports Writer

SHREVEPORT — Coach Woodrow Turner's Byrd Yellow Jackets repelled Fair Park's bid to end their 1-AAA domination, edging out an 83 1/2 - 76 1/2 victory over the Indians for the 16th straight league championship at Woodlawn Stadium here Friday evening.

The Jackets, written off long ago as a threat to Coach Steve Jordan's Indians, used the double victory performance of Bill Overdyke and received a big boost when Fair Park tripped and fell on the 880 yard relay, failing to place, to take the win.

It was the first defeat of the season for the Indians, who entered the meet as the only Louisiana Triple-A squad unbeaten.

Coach Buck Stewart's Neville Tigers, although never a strong contender for the championship, won the 880 yard and mile relays to finish third with 48 points.

Woodlawn was fourth with 31 1/2, followed by West Monroe with 27, Bossier 14, Airline 13 1/2, Ruston 13, Ouachita 9 and Bastrop 6.

Overdyke, the Jackets' big fullback who is Ole Miss bound on a football contract, edged Fair Park's favored John Troegel in the discus on his final throw and later added the shot put to his victory honors.

Down 11 - feet and in third place entering the finals of the discus, Overdyke moved to second on his first toss and on his last throw sailed the disc 100-9. Troegel was second with 158-2.

Overdyke came back to heave the shot 55-5/8 to edge Ruston's Bruce Jackson who threw the 12 - pound ball 54-5/8.

The Tigers' 880 yard relay squad, composed of Mark Hansen, Ricky Packer, David Hochstetler and Pat Mabray, clipped off the half mile in 1:30.3, two-tenths of a second in front of second-place Byrd. Coach Stewart was especially proud of Hochstetler's performance, turning in his best effort with a 22.4 and Mabray anchoring with 22.2.

The Indians' Gary Posey knocked three-tenths of a second off Neville's Kenny Brazzle's 21.7 mark set last year in the 220 yard dash, running the state's best time of 21.4.

Woodlawn's Bill Ebarb accounted for the other record adding an inch to the 6-2 jumping mark with a 6-3 winning effort. The Knights' Jon Pat Stepperson, who later gained fame as a basketball at Louisiana Tech, set the record in 1963.

Byrd's Owen Self, who had set new records in every other meet he had entered this year and has a 4:11.8 to his credit, disappointed the crowd with a 4:26.3 mile run, but it was obvious he was holding back to later run on the mile relay.

Fair Park won six first places while Byrd won five but the Jackets won the meet with edge in runner up honors, 6-2.

A total of eight Twin Cities athletes won their way to the state meet, while Ruston's Jackson also qualified. Neville will send its two ready teams, West Monroe takes Ashley and Beebe, and Ouachita with Randy Fuller pulling a surprise second in the 880 run, has one entry.

With Fred Cale subbing for Hansen, the quartet came back to run its best time of the season in winning the mile relay, zipping through the four-quarter race in 3:22.2. The state's second best effort. This time it was Mabray who sparked the Tiger unit, anchoring with a cool 49.4.

West Monroe, hurt severely with the loss of Glenn Gallaspy and the reduced efficiency of ace Larry Beebe, finished third in the mile relay with a 3:26.0 clocking far behind second placed Byrd, which came in with 3:23.2. The Rebels hold the state's fastest time in the event, a 3:21.6 clipped off at the Ram Relays in Bastrop in mid-April.

Beebe, running in obvious pain with a pulled hamstring muscle, won the 400 dash with a 50.0. Beebe, owner of the state AAA 880 run title, will now be shooting for a record in the quarter. Beebe's AAA record is 1:53.3 and he held the composite mark of 1:52.5.

Coach Pat Riser's other Rebel star, Larry Ashley, qualified for the state meet to be held in Chalmette next Friday night with an easy victory in the pole

Damascus 2-1 Derby Favorite

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—All was calm on the backstretch at Churchill Downs Friday, where 14 highly strung 3-year-old thoroughbreds awaited today's run for riches and roses in the 93rd Kentucky Derby.

However, there were rumblings of discontent elsewhere in this horse-minded city as advocates of an open housing bill threatened the smooth running of American's No. 1 horse race spectacle.

Here were the developments in the backstretch as city, national and state officials checked their plans to break up any disturbances that might interfere with the $162,200 1 1/4-mile race with victory worth $119,700.

Patrice Jacob's California Derby winner Reason to Hail turned up with a slight case of the hives. However, trainer Hirsch Jacobs, father of the colt's owner was not too concerned.

"It's nothing serious," said the popular red-headed trainer who has saddled more winners than any other trainer in history. "He's had it before and it goes down just as quickly as it comes up. You'll recall Exhibitionist had the same ailment last year before the Derby."

Damascus, the 2-1 favorite to win the major share of the purse, the coveted gold trophy and the blarney of red roses, worked three-eighths of a mile in 35 3/5 seconds and trainer Frank Whiteley Jr. said the son of Sword Dancer was ready for the supreme test.

Damascus will carry the famous white and red dot silks which have been borne by three Derby winners — Gallant Fox, Omaha and Johnstown. He is owned jointly by Mrs. William Woodward Sr., widow of the founder of the Belair Stud, and her daughter Mrs. Edith Bancroft. Mrs. Woodward, 84, was scheduled to be present.

Successor, with trainer Eddie Neloy remembering how badly the colt broke from the starting gate in the recent Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland, worked from the gate in an unusual day before the Derby prep. The son of Bold Ruler clipped off three-eighths of a mile in 35 3/5 seconds. Neloy was satisfied.

Ruken, the 7-2 second choice, took things easy but trainer Clyde Turk said the big son of Nashville, winner of the Santa Anita Derby, would be out early today for an easy gallop of one mile. Even though the California is a slow starter, Turk expressed satisfaction over the No. 1 post position. Damascus will start from No. 2.

Proud Clarion, quoted at 15-1 in the pre-race odds compiled by the track handicapper, blew out three-eighths of a mile in 35 3/5 seconds and eased up the half-mile in 49. "Very nice," said trainer Loyd Gentry.

Louisiana Derby winner Ask the Fare also worked three-eighths but trainer Jera Smith was unable to catch the time for the entire distance. He did clock his colt in 25 seconds for the last quarter.

Dr. Isby, who'll have Bill Hartack board in quest of his fifth derby triumph, also worked three-eighths in 35 seconds and 79-year-old trainer, Frank Childs said "It was fine."

All of the others confined their day's activities to gallops or walks around the shed. They were Diplomat Way, Da q n, Glory, Field Master, Gentleman James, Lightning Orphan, Barbs Delight and Second Encounter.

Riding assignments were finally completed with trainer Hal Steele Jr. announcing that Kenny Knapp will be aboard Derby Trial winner Barbs Delight and trainer Ted Cleveland placing Billy Phelps on Second Encounter, a rank outsider purchased early in the week by Nieson Harris and Joe Pierce for $30,000.

All 14 are expected to be in the line-up for the 5:30 p.m. EDT start; although there is a prospect of an off track. The weatherman says there is a 40 per cent chance of rain. The race will be carried on nationwide television by CBS from 5:30 p.m. EDT and by CBS radio from 5:15-5:45.

While the horsemen went quietly about the last minute tasks of preparing for the colorful race before an expected crowd of 100,000, there were more and more reports that advocates of open housing would attempt to disrupt the running of the race.

In the latest development, two of the three bands withdrew Friday. Only the University of Louisville band will be on hand and its director has asked for guards.

The Louisville Male High School band withdrew after Ray Boesser, its director, had received threats in an anonymous telephone call. The same decision was made by the Lincoln High School band of Vincennes, Ind.

Boesser said the telephone caller told him, "If you show up at the Derby, your life will be in danger—and you can tell the other band directors the same holds true for them." Male's band is integrated, as is the University of Louisville organization.

Cincinnati Beats Atlanta, 14-7 In Thirty-Five Hit Marathon

ATLANTA (AP) — Cincinnati, shut out in its last two games, bombed Atlanta 14-7 Friday night with an 18-hit attack that included three homers and four doubles.

The Braves had 17 hits in the free-swing game, but couldn't match the Cincinnati power. John Edwards slammed a three-run homer in the fourth inning. Tommy Harper, who doubled in the first, hit a solo home run to start a three-run outburst in the seventh. Deron Johnson hit his seventh homer of the season, a two-run shot, that highlighted a six-run ninth. Lee May, Pete Rose and Johnson also doubled for the National League leading Reds, who had been blanked for 22 straight innings.

Cubs Prove Timely Single Better Than Lonely Swat

CHICAGO (AP) — Ernie Banks' tie-breaking single capped a three-run rally in the seventh inning which propelled the Chicago Cubs to a 5-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Friday in a game marred by five wild pitches.

The Cardinals were riding a 3-0 lead going into the sixth inning when Banks singled home a run to end a 23-inning scoreless spell for the Cubs. It also marked the first run scored in 25 innings against Cardinal pitching after 24 shutout innings.

With one out in the seventh, Don Kessinger singled and took second on a wild pitch. Billy Williams singled in Kessinger and after Lee Thomas beat out an infield single, Ron Santo singled home the tying run before Banks connected. The Cubs added another run in the eighth Kessinger's single.

An error and Orlando Cepeda's second homer gave the Cardinals a 2-0 lead in the fourth. The Cardinals picked up another run in the sixth when Curt Flood scored from third on a wild pitch by Ken Holtzman. Holtzman, lifted for a pinch batter in the seventh, his second game in as many decisions. Steve Carlton, who relieved starter Dick Hughes in the seventh, pitched only to Thomas but was tagged with the loss.

Lefty Lohich Stops Birds On Four Hits For Tigers

DETROIT (AP) — Left-hander Mickey Lohich fashioned a neat four-hit shutout and Dick McAuliffe stroked a towering home run Friday night, leading the Detroit Tigers to a 4-0 victory over Baltimore.

Steve Barber, making his first start since he and Stu Miller combined for a losing no-hitter last Sunday, took the loss. He gave way to Eddie Watt in the fifth.

The victory kept Detroit in a tie for the American League lead with Chicago, a 3-2 winner over Cleveland.

Lohich helped his own cause with a run-producing single in the second inning. McAuliffe homered in the third.

In the fifth, the Tigers got two on a walk to Lohich, perfect basethit bunts by Don Wert and McAuliffe, a walk to Al Kaline and an error.

White Sox Take 3-2 Indian Win

CLEVELAND (AP) — Left-hander Tommy John, who key offensive support from Tommy Agee, stopped Cleveland on four hits Friday night and pitched the Chicago White Sox to a 3-2 victory.

John, who won his first against two losses, was locked in a 2-2 pitching duel with the Indians' Steve Hargan until Agee started the winning rally with a one-out single in the ninth.

Agee stole second and scored the winner on Pete Ward's single—only the fifth hit off Hargan.

vault. Ashley started vaulting at 12 feet although he usually begins at 13 feet. He started early because of the bad conditions of the vault runway. At 12 - 6 he passed until 13 - 6 and then won at 14 - feet.

The runway was slippery because school officials had put down grass, but rain hit the track Wednesday and Thursday causing the improper adhesion on all three jumping tracks.

Byrd and Fair Park each counted for two of the five new records set during the cool, sometimes windy evening. The Jackets' Doug Cook raced to a 19.1 clocking in the low hurdles, easily erasing the old mark of 19.4 set by West Monroe's Steve West in 1964. Woodlawn's Ross Oglesby also clipped the old record, finishing second in 19.3. Cale, Neville's top stick man, was third in 19.7.

It was also in a hurdle race where Byrd set its other record. John Finch chopped two tenths of a second off the 14.6, 120 yard high hurdle mark, hitting the tape in 14.4. Again Oglesby topped the old mark, just a half step behind in 14.45. Cale was third in 14.5.

Fair Park's Milton Milam added over two feet to the triple jump mark, soaring 46 - 8 for top honors. Milam broke the old record of James Bohata of Fair Park, who set the standard of 44 - 4 1/2 in 1963.

Mira Wants

To Play Ball

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — San Francisco 49er Quarterback George Mira, saying he was tired of laboring in the shadow of John Brodie, refused Friday to sign a new two-year contract.

Mira said he would honor his commitment to play next season at San Francisco, but would play out his option without a contract at a 10 per cent cut in salary.

The former University of Miami southpaw said, "My plan now is to play out my option next season."

Mira told 49ers General Manager Lou Spadia, "I want to play. If you don't want me, trade me. Let me get somewhere where I can play."

Mira said he did not ask for more money when Spadia flew here to sign him. "I just tried to get some assurance that they planned to use me more next season," Mira said.

Waterproof Wins Regional, Wildcats Repeat In District 2-A

By TOMMY POINDEXTER
World Sports Writer

The powerful Winnsboro Wildcats successfully defended their 2 - A District crown by piling up 86 1/2 points while a strong cinder team from Waterproof copped the Regional 2 - C team title with 100 tallies.

Oak Grove and Vidalia battled to a second place tie with 59 1/2 marks in the 2 - A division while the Lake Providence Panthers finished in third position with 46 1/2 points. Rayville snatched down fourth place with 39 marks and Delhi finished in the cellar with 18.

Davidson of St. Joseph pulled in second place in the regional run with 87 markers. Sikes fell to third with 67 tallies and Athens finished in fourth position with 24 points.

Winnsboro combined seven first place finishes with overall team depth to cop the crown.

Although Rayville finished in fourth place, it upset the powerful 'Cats in the 880 relay. A Hornet foursome of Darwin Peoples, Bob Taylor, Jay Ellington and Mike Shoemaker reeled off a 1:33.7 clocking in the 880 baton event and Mike Cooper joined Taylor, Ellington and Shoemaker on the 440 baton chase as they clocked 45.3 to finish inches behind the Wildcats who won in 45.2.

Danny Boone of Delhi pulled quite an upset in the 880 by beating Bill Miller and Chris Cruse of Winnsboro who were favored to finish one, two in the event.

Rickey Griffin paced the Wildcats field attack by capturing the long jump, triple jump and high jump titles in the afternoon fest with teammate James Evans adding spicing to the cake by garnering a second place finish in the long jump and a third in the pole vault. Rayville's Mike Shoemaker copped the century title with a 10.2 clocking over Freddie Fortenberry of Lake Providence who finished a step back in 10.3 but Fortenberry came back in the furlong to reel off a 22.4 clocking for a Panther first place crown.

Bulldog quartermiler Ronnie Bledsole stepped his speciality in 52.4 to take a slight edge over Larry Marsh of the Panthers who was clocked in 52.6. Oak Grove's Harvey Hemphill and Jimmy Sheppard of the Panthers battled to a first place tie in the shot with a 47 - heave but Sheppard came back to cop the discus with a 117 - 8 toss.

Powerful Waterproof garnered 11 first places including two relay victories.

QUANTICO, Va. (AP) — Charlie Messenger held off a belated bid by Fordham's Jack Fath and anchored a patched-up Villanova distance relay team to a record-breaking victory Friday as the Wildcats and the women shared the spotlight in the 11th annual Quantico Relays.

With Messenger running the last mile in 4:06.1, the Wildcats were clocked in 9:47.6 as the first three distance medley teams finished under the 9:51 record set by Villanova in 1960. Fordham was timed in 9:48.2 as

Palmer Birdies Way To Houston Golf Meet Lead

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Masterful Arnold Palmer birdied five of the last seven holes Friday on his way to a five-under-par 66 that thrust him into a three-stroke lead at the halfway point of the $15,000 Champions International Golf Tournament.

Palmer, who fired a 68 in the first round, was eight under par with a 36-hole total of 134. Young Frank Beard, who shared the lead going into the day's round with lanky George Archer and Dan Sikes, landed alone in second with a 70, for 137.

In a drastic move by tournament officials, three of the game's top players, Jack Nicklaus, PGA champion Al Geiberger and former U.S. Open winner Gary Middlecoff, playing in a threesome, suffered a two-stroke penalty for slow play.

The penalty, invoked by tournament director Jack Tuthill, took the edge off a 69 Nicklaus had fashioned to counter a spiraling 77 in the first round. His 148 was barely enough to escape the cut, limiting play in the final two rounds to the top 70.

This was the first time PGA officials had slapped a penalty against an entire threesome. Normally, such a move is limited to a single contestant.

Most of the pros, including Palmer, felt the problem was the result of poor pairings.

"It's just an unfortunate pairing when you've got two pretty slow players in a group (Nicklaus and Middlecoff) and Geiberger, who is no speed demon," Palmer said.

Nicklaus, whose game has been off this year, first remarked to Middlecoff, his traveling companion: "I'm going back to Florida." Later, though, Nicklaus reconsidered and decided to stay, but commented: "I just can't play any faster."

The three toured the course in 4 hours, 18 minutes. Since they were relatively early starters, much of the field started up behind them. At one point, Nicklaus, Middlecoff and Geiberger were a half-hour behind those ahead, leaving a 2½-hole gap.

Tuthill warned them on the 11th hole to speed up. As the three signed their cards at the 18th green, he asked them if they had an explanation for dragging their heels. They replied, "No." So, Tuthill said, "I have no alternative but to penalize you."

The Astros trailed 2-0 until the fourth inning when Ed Matthews left off with a single and Staub drove a Seaver pitch into the right field bullpen.

The Mets got their first two runs in the second inning on singles by Buchek, Tom Reynolds and Bud Harrelson plus an error by second baseman Joe Morgan.

Wildcats, Women Highlight 11th Annual Quantico Relays

QUANTICO, Va. (AP) — Charlie Messenger held off a belated bid by Fordham's Jack Fath and anchored a patched-up Villanova distance relay team to a record-breaking victory Friday as the Wildcats and the women shared the spotlight in the 11th annual Quantico Relays.

With Messenger running the last mile in 4:06.1, the Wildcats were clocked in 9:47.6 as the first three distance medley teams finished under the 9:51 record set by Villanova in 1960. Fordham was timed in 9:48.2 as Fath ran a 4:04.8 mile, and third-place Georgetown finished in 9:49.8.

Records were set in trials of both women's events. A Tennessee State quartet of Diana Wilson, Matilene Rander, Marcella Daniel and Madeline Manning ran the 440 relay in 46.7 seconds, while American record-holder Charlotte Cook of Washington, D.C., set a mark of 2:08.7 in the 880.

Richmond Flowers, Tennessee's sophomore flash, put in a surprise appearance and led qualifying for Saturday's semifinals in the 120-high hurdles with an unextended 14-second clocking. He also earned a berth in the 100-yard dash semifinals in 9.8.

British West Indies star Ed Roberts of the Baltimore Olympic Club, the winner here the last two years while running for North Carolina College, also was caught in 9.8 in the 100. Other semifinalists include Olympian Mel Pender of the U.S. Army and Penn Relays winner Clarence Rah of Kentucky State.

Palmer Birdies Way To Houston Golf Meet Lead

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Masterful Arnold Palmer birdied five of the last seven holes Friday on his way to a five-under-par 66 that thrust him into a three-stroke lead at the halfway point of the $115,000 Champions International Golf Tournament.

Palmer, who fired a 68 in the first round, was eight under par with a 36-hole total of 134. Young Frank Beard, who shared the lead going into the day's round with lanky George Archer and Dan Sikes, landed alone in second with a 70, for 137.

In a drastic move by tournament officials, three of the game's top players, Jack Nicklaus, PGA champion Al Geiberger and former U.S. Open winner Gary Middlecoff, playing in a threesome, suffered a two-stroke penalty for slow play.

The penalty, invoked by tournament director Jack Tuthill, took the edge off a 69 Nicklaus had fashioned to counter a spiraling 77 in the first round. His 148 was barely enough to escape the cut, limiting play in the final two rounds to the top 70.

This was the first time PGA officials had slapped a penalty against an entire threesome. Normally, such a move is limited to a single contestant.

Most of the pros, including Palmer, felt the problem was the result of poor pairings.

"It's just an unfortunate pairing when you've got two pretty slow players in a group (Nicklaus and Middlecoff) and Geiberger, who is no speed demon," Palmer said.

Nicklaus, whose game has been off this year, first remarked to Middlecoff, his traveling companion: "I'm going back to Florida." Later, though, Nicklaus reconsidered and decided to stay, but commented: "I just can't play any faster."

The three toured the course in 4 hours, 18 minutes. Since they were relatively early starters, much of the field stacked up behind them. At one point, Nicklaus, Middlecoff and Geiberger were a half-hour behind those ahead, leaving a 2½-hole gap.

Tuthill warned them on the 11th hole to speed up. As the three signed their cards at the 18th green, he asked them if they had an explanation for dragging their heels. They replied, "No." So, Tuthill said, "I have no alternative but to penalize you."

The Astros trailed 2-0 until the fourth inning when Ed Mathews took off with a single and Staub drove a Seaver pitch into the right field bullpen.

The Mets got their first two runs in the second inning on singles by Buchek, Tom Reynolds and Bud Harrelson plus an error by second baseman Joe Morgan.

Top Area Riders To Run At Selman

Several top riders from the Ark-La-Miss area are expected to be on hand Sunday at Selman Field for the regional motorcycle races beginning at 1 p.m.

Four classes of engine sizes will be in the running, 100cc, 175cc, 250cc and an Open division.

Gary Landry of Baton Rouge is one of the entries who is a consistent winner in the 250 class. He will have stiff competition from James Floyd and Bobby Gamble of Shreveport and Mike Battaglia and David Martin of Monroe.

A spokesman for the sponsoring Twin Cities Rambler said a "wheelie" contest will be held Sunday provided there are enough entries. Distance covered on the rear wheel of a bike determines the winner in such a contest.

Short track races, where bikes have no brakes, will be held tonight at Cajun Raceway near Sterling. Three classes will run.

Heavy rains in the Monroe area have postponed two golf events at Charmingdale Golf and Country Club.

The board of directors and guests tournament, originally set for today will be played next Saturday and the regular North Louisiana PGO pro-am has been changed from May 15 to May 22.

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Zoilo Versailles lashed four hits and Ron Clark hit his first major league homer, leading Minnesota past Boston 4-2 Friday night.

Versailles drove in two runs with a second-inning triple and a fourth-inning single. Rookie Clark posted his first homer, a two-run blow, in the second when the Twins scored four runs.

Jim Grant blanked the Red Sox on four hits and didn't allow a runner past second base until the ninth when Boston erupted for four singles and two runs.

After George Thomas and Reggie Smith singled across runs, with two out, Al Worthington relieved Grant and fanned Mike Andrews for the final out.

A DESK-EMPTYING scene which has become a familiar sight in the city rooms of many of New York City's other defunct daily newspapers is re-enacted here after the World Journal Tribune announced it would cease publication following Friday's editions. (AP Wirephoto)

THAT REALLY HELPS

NEW DELHI (AP) — Drivers contemplating trips through the crowded lanes of old Delhi would do well to take boxing lessons first.

Movement of traffic has completely collapsed various times recently during rush hours. And one evening, 20 cars were damaged in a hopeless traffic jam, during which the drivers got out and battled each other.

World Journal Tribune Writes-30-On Publication

NEW YORK (AP) — The fledgling World Journal Tribune ceased publication Friday after only eight months of existence, attributing its death to union harassment and a new and higher wage pattern in the industry.

"The thing that has brought us to this day is the intransigence of the unions," declared the afternoon and Sunday newspaper's president, Matt Meyer. The World Journal Tribune was losing money at the rate of $8.4 million a year, he said, and no one had shown any interest in buying it.

First published after a 140-day strike last year, the World Journal Tribune closed in the midst of a new round of New York newspaper wage negotiations in which a pattern of a 21 per cent wage increase over three years already has been set.

"It is totally impractical for the World Journal Tribune to assume this increased burden," Meyer said. He added that the decision to kill the paper was made Wednesday night.

Meyer set circulation of the World Journal Tribune at 700,000 daily and 900,000 Sunday. It was the third in size of four Manhattan dailies, and seventh in the nation in size among afternoon newspapers.

The closing threw 2,000 persons out of jobs. Some wept. Others covered their emotions beneath wry comment and wisecracks.

It left Manhattan with a single afternoon newspaper of general circulation, the tabloid New York Post. Two morning dailies, both with Sunday editions, remain in the field, the Times and the Daily News. A generation ago the city had 12 metropolitan dailies.

The death of the World Journal Tribune also erased after more than 70 years the last vestiges in New York of two great newspaper empires. The paper was born out of the merger of the Hearst organization's Journal-American and the Scripps Howard World-Telegram & The Sun.

Nationally known columnists who lost their only New York outlet with the demise of the World Journal Tribune included Red Smith, Walter Lippman, Jimmy Breslin, Walter Winchell, Bob Considine, Jim Bishop, Joseph Alsop and William Buckley.

Meyer said in his statement announcing the end of the paper that a 21 per cent wage increase pattern set at the Daily News by the AFL-CIO International Typographical Union would add $10.5 million in payroll costs over three years to an operation already losing $700,000 a month.

Meyer quoted the president of the local printer's union, Bertram A. Powers, as declaring: "All they can do is pay or shut down."

Powers said the closing was a complete surprise to him and added: "I believe the difficulties this paper experienced were among the owners. I'm convinced there will be another paper to take its place in the afternoon field."

Partners in the World Journal Tribune were William Randolph Hearst Jr., chairman of the Hearst Corp.; Jack Howard, president and general editorial manager of the Scripps-Howard Newspapers, and John Hay Whitney, owner of the old Herald Tribune.

"I'm told they couldn't agree on letting one buy out the other. We heard all along that Whitney refused to put any more money into the operation. They had internal problems that had absolutely nothing to do with the contract negotiations," Powers said.

The Herald Tribune originally had been planned as a morning adjunct to the new afternoon newspaper, but it folded during the strike that preceded the birth of the World Journal Tribune.

In reply to Powers' remarks, Meyer told a news conference: "I don't know how Mr. Powers would have any knowledge about what goes on at the board meetings of the World Journal Tribune. His statement was brought out of rank air. How would he know?"

As for himself, Meyer added: "If I had any money to invest it would not be in the New York newspaper field."

Work Begins On Sidewalks At Tech Hall

RUSTON (Special) — Work started this week on a joint Louisiana Tech and Student Senate project to install an underground drainage system and rebuild a network of sidewalks in the quadrangle in front of Keeney Hall, the Tech administration building.

Dr. F. Jay Taylor, Tech president, has worked closely with the president of the Student Senate, Bill Wilson of Shreveport, and other members of the student governing body on the project. Dr. Taylor expressed his appreciation to the Tech Student Senate for its interest and cooperation in helping finance the improvement and beautification project.

Under the plan, none of the sidewalks in the quadrangle area will be less than 10-feet wide.

Work is under way to install a network of underground catch basins and to tie them into a line already in existence. Plans are to re-design the walkway from the Lady of the Mist fountain in the center of the quadrangle to the Howard Auditorium to the south.

Only work in the north area of the quadrangle can be undertaken in the current project, expected to be completed by the start of the summer session.

Work in the southern section of the quadrangle will be delayed until expansion of the Tech Student Center and construction of the bookstore is completed. They are located on the southwest side of the quadrangle. Prescott Memorial Library and Lomax Hall are located on the north side of the quadrangle.

Richard A. Smith, head of the department of civil engineering at Tech, designed the underground drainage system being utilized in the project.

Tech To Be Test Center For Teachers

RUSTON (Special) — Louisiana Tech has been designated as a test center for administering the National Teacher Examinations on July 1, Miss Hazel Shively, director of guidance at the college, announced.

College seniors preparing to teach and teachers applying for positions in school systems which encourage or require applicants to submit their scores on the National Teacher Examinations along with their other credentials are eligible to take the tests. The examinations are prepared and administered by Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N. J.

The designation of Tech as a test center for these examinations will give prospective teachers in this area an opportunity to compare their performance on the examinations with candidates throughout the country who take the tests.

At the one-day session, a candidate may take the common examinations, which include tests in professional education and general education, and one of the 13 teaching area examinations, which are designed to evaluate his understanding of the subject matter and methods applicable to the area he may be assigned to teach.

Bulletins of information describing registration procedures and containing registration forms may be obtained from the Student Guidance Office at Tech or directly from the National Teacher Examinations, Educational Testing Service, Box 911, Princeton, N. J. June 2 is the deadline for registering for this test.

Lawyers Agree On Admissibility At TV Hearing

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Opposing lawyers agreed Friday on what documents and evidence could be considered in deciding whether Jackson television station WLBT should get a new license.

The lawyers reported to Federal Communications Commission Examiner Jay A. Kyle of Washington they had agreed on the material and Kyle said next witnesses would be heard Monday.

There was no testimony Friday in the week-long hearing to consider protests that WLBT should not get a new operating license because it had discriminated against Negroes. The protest was entered by the United Church of Christ and two Mississippi Negro leaders.

The hearing thus far has centered on whether WLBT discriminated on its programming and granting use of facilities in the public interest.

Monday the FCC plans to begin considering whether WLBT misrepresented its situation to the FCC and public.

Scheduled to testify was former station manager Fred Beard, who was in charge during the early years of this decade from which the charges came.

Kyle said Beard would be a voluntary witness and that the Beard testimony would be finished in one day because he is from out of town, even if the session runs into the night.

Jury Finds Man Guilty Of Robbery

EL DORADO, Ark. (Special) — Harry William Theriault, charged in U.S. District Court with burglary of the Parkdale Bank, was found guilty as charged by a jury Wednesday afternoon.

The jury, which deliberated for two hours, returned at one point for further instructions from Oren Harris, the presiding judge.

Theriault was remanded to the custody of the U.S. Marshall to await final disposition of the case after the court directed the probation officer to furnish a complete report on the defendant's background. Sentencing was withheld by Judge Harris pending the receipt of this report.

The charge against Theriault grew out of the Dec. 11, 1966, burglary of the Parkdale Bank in Ashley County, from which $300 to $500 in cash; and travelers checks and bonds valued at several thousand dollars were reportedly taken.

Work Begins On Sidewalks At Tech Hall

RUSTON (Special) — Work started this week on a joint Louisiana Tech and Student Senate project to install an underground drainage system and rebuild a network of sidewalks in the quadrangle in front of Keeley Hall, the Tech administration building.

Dr. F. Jay Taylor, Tech president, has worked closely with the president of the Student Senate, Bill Wilson of Shreveport, and other members of the student governing body on the project. Dr. Taylor expressed his appreciation to the Tech Student Senate for its interest and cooperation in helping finance the improvement and beautification project.

Under the plan, none of the sidewalks in the quadrangle area will be less than 10-feet wide.

Work is under way to install a network of underground catch basins and to tie them into a line already in existence. Plans are to re-design the walkway from the Lady of the Mist fountain in

GOV. JOHN MCKEITHEN

McKeithen To Speak At Graduation

NEW ORLEANS (Special) — Gov. John J. McKeithen will be commencement speaker at graduation exercises of the Louisiana State University Medical Center, set for 10 a.m. Saturday, June 3 in the New Orleans Municipal Auditorium.

During the ceremonies the University's 3,000th doctor of medicine degree will be awarded. Graduation will conclude the 36th academic year of operation of the Medical Center.

Title of the governor's address will be: "The New Look in Louisiana".

The entire commencement program will be open to the general public.

Degrees will be conferred by Dr. John A. Hunter, president of the LSU System, on 175 candidates for graduation, including 127 for the doctor of medicine, the largest class in history, said Dr. William W. Frye, chancellor of the Medical Center.

Gov. McKeithen, the holder of two LSU degrees, was recently cited by the LSU Alumni Federation as the "Distinguished Alumnus of the Year," in ceremonies April 22 on the University's main campus at Baton Rouge.

The governor's Medical Center commencement address will come 25 years after receipt of his LSU bachelor of laws degree, which he earned in 1942. He received his bachelor of arts in 1941.

Tech To Be Test Center For Teachers

RUSTON (Special) — Louisiana Tech has been designated as a test center for administering the National Teacher Examinations on July 1. Miss Hazel Shively, director of guidance at the college, announced.

College seniors preparing to teach and teachers applying for positions in school systems which encourage or require applicants to submit their scores on the National Teacher Examinations along with their other credentials are eligible to take the tests. The examinations are prepared and administered by Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N. J.

The designation of Tech as a test center for these examinations will give prospective teachers in this area an opportunity to compare their performance on the examinations with candidates throughout the country who take the tests.

At the one-day session, a candidate may take the common examinations, which include tests in professional education and general education, and one of the 13 teaching area examinations which are designed to evaluate his understanding of the subject matter and methods applicable to the area he may be assigned to teach.

Bulletins of information describing registration procedures and containing registration forms may be obtained from the Student Guidance Office at Tech or directly from the National Teacher Examinations, Educational Testing Service, Box 911, Princeton, N. J. June 2 is the deadline for registering for this test.

Lawyers Agree On Admissibility At TV Hearing

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Opposing lawyers agreed Friday on what documents and evidence could be considered in deciding whether Jackson television station WLBT should get a new license.

The lawyers reported to Federal Communications Commission Examiner Jay A. Kyle of Washington they had agreed on the material and Kyle said next witnesses would be heard Monday.

There was no testimony Friday in the week-long hearing to consider protests that WLBT should not get a new operating license because it had discriminated against Negroes. The protest was entered by the United Church of Christ and two Mississippi Negro leaders.

The hearing thus far has centered on whether WLBT discriminated on its programming and granting use of facilities in the public interest.

Monday the FCC plans to begin considering whether WLBT misrepresented its situation to the FCC and public.

Scheduled to testify was former station manager Fred Beard, who was in charge during the early years of this decade from which the charges came.

Kyle said Beard would be a voluntary witness and that the Beard testimony would be finished in one day because he is from out of town, even if the session runs into the night.

Jury Finds Man Guilty Of Robbery

EL DORADO, Ark. (Special) — Harry William Theriault, charged in U.S. District Court with burglary of the Parkdale Bank, was found guilty as charged by a jury Wednesday afternoon.

The jury, which deliberated for two hours, returned at one point for further instructions from Oren Harris, the presiding judge.

Theriault was remanded to the custody of the U.S. Marshall to await final disposition of the case after the court directed the probation officer to furnish a complete report on the defendant's background. Sentencing was withheld by Judge Harris pending the receipt of this report.

The charge against Theriault grew out of the Dec. 11, 1966, burglary of the Parkdale Bank in Ashley County, from which $300 to $500 in cash; and travelers checks and bonds valued at several thousand dollars were reportedly taken.

INDIAN SUICIDES DROWN

NEW DELHI (AP) — Drowning is the favorite form of suicide in India, according to a report by the Central Bureau of Investigation.

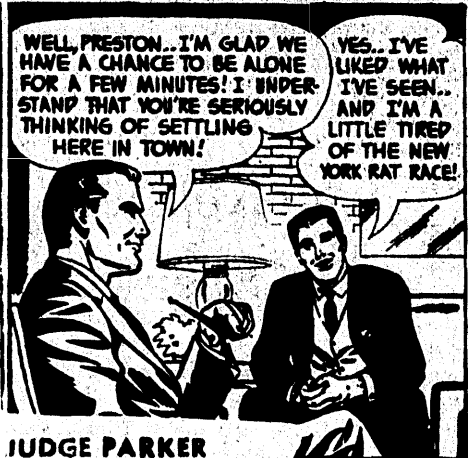

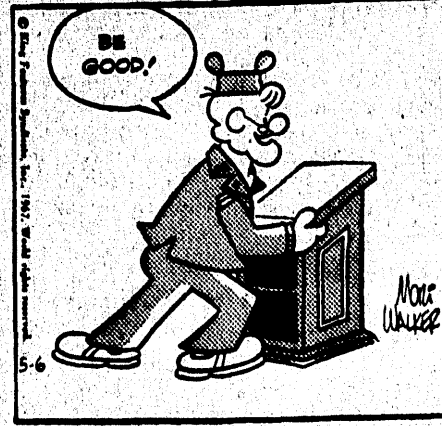

A survey by the agency of 29,774 suicides reported in 1964 showed that 8,843 persons died by jumping into wells, ponds or rivers, while 6,754 hanged themselves and 2,900 took poison. Other methods were not disclosed.

Coincidentally, a report released earlier by the same agency revealed that drowning also were responsible for the most accidental deaths in India in 1964.

Personal Gifts Improper Unless Couple's Engaged

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: For the last 2 months our family has been receiving magazines, books, records, rugs, and even a hi-fi set in the mails. We did not order any of this stuff and have no idea who could be sending it to us and billing us for it. It is undoubtedly someone with a sick mind who thinks this is "funny." Each time one of these packages arrives, I mail it back to the company from which it came because I don't believe in keeping things that don't belong to me. This is getting to be a real chore and I am tired of making trips to the postoffice, but what else can I do?

DISGUSTED
DEAR DISGUSTED: When you receive a package you did not order, mark it "refused" and return it to the postoffice. They will assume the responsibility of returning it. If you open it, technically you have "accepted" it, and must then return it yourself. Or you can write to the company from which it came, requesting the money for postage with which to return it. If they do not comply, hold the package for 30 to 40 days and then dispose of it.

RECORD PRICE FOR KARAKUL EWE
WINDHOEK, South West Africa (AP) — A farmer paid 1,310 rand ($1,572) for a purebred Karakul ewe here, setting a new world record for Karakul breeding stock sold by auction. The previous world record, also set in Windhoek, was 1,110 rand ($1,320) paid in 1964. The pelts of Karakul lambs are used for making Persian Lamb coats which retail up to 5,000 rand ($7,000) each. The 8-year-old ewe was bought by J. U. Badenhorst, who farms in neighboring South Africa.

If you have a question you want answered, write or call "Mr. Editor, Tell Me, Please," at the Morning World and News-Star. We'll be glad to get the information and pass it on to you each Saturday in this column.

Could you possibly tell me any information about "Venus Flytraps"? What kind of conditions they live in and how to raise them? Do you know of anybody I could consult to find any information about them? Any books I could check out from the public library that would contain any information that I need to know?

Venus Flytraps are native to North Carolina and parts of South Carolina. Like most carnivorous plants, it possibly likes damp, acid, fertile soil. The library might have some books with information on the plant, such as F. W. Lloyd's "The Carnivorous Plants" (1942), and Charles Darwin's "Insectivorous Plants" (1875).

Marines Take Last Hill After 12 - Day Fight

HILL 881 NORTH, South Vietnam (AP) — Reduced in battle from 220 to 131 men, a U.S. Marine company rested in victory Friday night on the crest of Hill 881 North.

One of the hardest-hit units in a 12-day drive that cleared the area of enemy forces, the 3rd Battalion, 5th Marine Regiment, took Hill 881 North after a 12-day fight.

North Vietnamese regulars from three key peaks at a cost of nearly 1,000 Americans killed or wounded, the Leathernecks made up Company E, 2nd Battalion, 3rd Marines.

"If anybody comes up here tonight he's going to get killed," said Lt. Jack Adinolfi, 23, of Greenville, N.Y.

Adinolfi was in command because his captain was wounded in battle on another slope Wednesday.

These and other Marines, plus swooping jets and artillery barges, were officially credited with killing 577 men from a new North Vietnamese division—the 325th—and probably wiping out 610 others.

The Americans said they had blunted a massive, well-planned attempt to overrun Khe Sanh, a Marine forward base and airstrip seven miles from the Laotian border and 12 miles south of the demilitarized zone.

Hill 881 North gets its number, as do other peaks on military maps, from its height in meters. It rises 2,890 feet—more than half a mile—above sea level.

All around E Company, the once verdant hills were strewn with shattered timber, blasted by the bombs and artillery and blackened by the napalm. It looked like a macabre Halloween picture.

Ironically, after the savage fighting, Hill 881 North was taken with relatively little skirmishing.

E Company moved up at 5 p.m. Thursday.

Other Marines of F Company circled the hill to a little knob on a gentle ridge 100 yards long. As F Company approached before noon Friday, snipers opened up. Artillery was called in.

Then there was the last firefight. Seven Marines were wounded. Seven enemy were counted dead and 17 of their weapons were found.

The hill was reported as finally secure at 2:35 p.m.

On April 24, a Marine patrol from Khe Sanh, then defended by only one company, bumped into a company of North Vietnamese regulars on the eastern point of the triangle, Hill 861.

Hill 881 North is part of a triangle whose point starts 4,000 yards from the Khe Sanh airstrip.

Marine intelligence officers said the point is at the head of a broad, elaborate system of bunkers, some covered with eight layers of logs, stretching to the Laotian border seven miles away.

The officers reported the three regiments of the 325th, two of which were badly maimed in the fighting, hoped to move through and be supplied by this bunker system.

The Marines took heavy casualties and Khe Sanh was reinforced by two battalions. After a heavy bombing, Hill 861 was taken last Saturday without opposition.

Next came Hill 881 South. After more bombing, the Marines received heavy casualties in attempting to take its summit.

More artillery and more air strikes—18,000 shells eventually were fired and 13,000 tons of bombs were dropped—Hill 881 South fell Tuesday.

Adinolfi and the men of E Company came ashore from the South China Sea on April 22 in an amphibious assault which was part of another operation. They soon were rushed to Khe Sanh.

Seven men were wounded in their first encounter with enemy snipers. Next two were killed and 17 wounded in a Communist mortar attack.

Then came "Stinky Hill," a rise above a shallow gulch between 881 South and 881 North. E Company made camp Tuesday night and dug into a defensive perimeter. At 4:30 a.m., Wednesday, the North Vietnamese counterattacked with two companies, perhaps 300 men. The E Company battle was just one of many.

"They got to within 25 feet of our command post," Adinolfi said. "They never penetrated our perimeter. The perimeter gave way, but it still held together."

"You could hear them talking. We had Marine bodies 10 feet in front of us. The wounded were out there screaming and yelling."

Our chief medic, who was in my foxhole, was crying, crying himself deaf because he couldn't go out and help them.

Adinolfi's commander was calling gunfire from helicopter gunships. He was wounded by rocket and machine-gun fire from an American helicopter. In the same volley, one man was killed and several others were wounded.

As dawn broke, a Marine platoon came to E Company's aid. "It was daylight then, and we started shooting them out of the trees like squirrels," Adinolfi said.

The enemy counterattack was broken. Eighty-two North Vietnamese, mostly young and with English-language propaganda leaflets in their pockets, were found dead outside E Company's perimeter.

In that attack, Adinolfi said, the Marine company lost about 25 dead and 69 wounded, 33 of the latter seriously. E Company then settled down to comparative quiet, and marched up Hill 881 North when the time was right.
